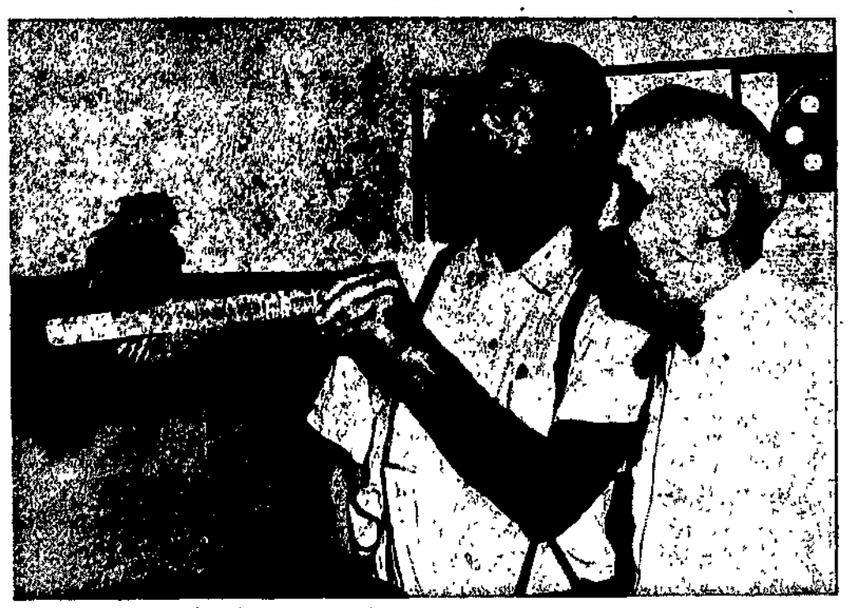
Mr. Owl Visits at Courthouse



PERCHED ON A RULER held by Harold Lauer, a deputy in Marion County Engineer Reed Ours' office, is Mr. Owl who came calling on Mr. Ours this morning in the Courthouse. Looking at him with interest is Walter Guthrie, commissioners' clerk, who spotted him under a bus in front of the building this morning. He was somewhat the worse for wear after last night's rain. Courthouse employes, questioning the bird about the reason for his Courthouse visit, didn't get too satisfactory an answer from the wet and bedraggled-looking owl. Mr. Owl, however, apparently didn't give a "hoot" what he was after, as long as he was getting dried off in readiness for being turned loose tonight.

Blair Moody, Ex-Michigan Senator, Dies

Former Newsman in Political Comeback Bid Suffers Relapse

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Blair Moody, former U.S. senator and prominent Michigan newspaperman, died unexpectedly yesterday at University Hospital of a virus pneumonia.

Dr. Cyrus C. Sturgis, head of the hospital's department of internal medicine, said the 52-year-old former Democratic senator had been undergoing treatment for an "excessive involvement of the lungs and had been doing very satisfactorily when he suffered a reversal and died."

Moody, appointed to the Senate in 1951 after the death of Republican Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg, was in the midst of a campaign for the Democratic senatorial nomination next month.

His death left Patrick V. McNamara, former Detroit councilman, unopposed for the nomination in the Democratic primary.

Moody was stricken with the virus infection last month while campaigning in the Upper Peninsula. He was hospitalized in Hancock, Mich., until last Sunday.

He was believed nearing recovery and ready to resume his campaign when he entered University Hospital here for a final treatment and physical checkup.

Moody had been Washington correspondent for the Detroit News for 18 years before his appointment to the Senate.

He was defeated in his bid for election in 1952 by Rep. Charles E. Potter (R-Mich).

Hold Fostoria and Findlay Persons; Police Praised

A dope ring operating in Marion for the last month was broken up yesterday and today by alert action of city police with assistance of a Federal Bureau of Narcotics agent.

Police Chief Thomas B. Coon said that five out-of-town persons were charged today with fraudently obtaining prescriptions for narcotics drugs from a local physician.

Those agrested—four of whom have penitentiary records on previous narcotics charges and are alleged to be dope addicts—were: Hazel Laney, 41; her husband, Bud Luney, 50; and Clarence Luttle, 49, all of Fostoria, and Albert H. Smith, 52, and Velma Mahoney, both of Findlay.

THE NAME OF THE local physician was not revealed by either city police or the Federal Narcotics Bureau. Chief Coon said that he had cooperated fully with city police in breaking the case and that actually there was no state or local law violation on his part.

Knowland Puts Pressure on for Atomic Action

Senate Hears Threat Of Round-the-Clock Session if Necessary

WASHINGTON (AP) — Majority leader Knowland (R-Calif) called today for an around-the-clock session of the Senate, if necessary, to complete action on atomic legislation.

He punctuated his statement by directing the sergeant-at-arms to haul in cots from nearby cloakrooms and corridors for possible use.

"We're not going to have one or two votes. We're going to finish this bill if we have to stay all night to do it," Knowland said as the Senate began its eighth day of debate on the atomic bill.

Opponents of President Eisenhower's directive to the Atomic Energy Commission to sign a contract with a private utility group to supply power in the Tennessee Valley Authority area informally agreed to a test vote on this key issue at a meeting late last night.

But Sen. Gore (D-Tenn), quarterback for this group, and Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore) insisted they would prolong debate if they did not win the first round.

Knowland recessed the Senate last night after he received word of the understanding that a vote would come sometime today on the big issue at controversy.

Reds Will Free Six Americans

U.S. Group Notified By Chinese at Geneva

GENEVA (AP)—The Chinese Communists have agreed to release six Americans held in Red China, the U.S. delegation announced today.

The announcement said:

"The Chinese Communist representatives have stated further that the cases of other detained Americans are still under review."

American officials here believe the Chinese Reds are holding in prison or otherwise detaining about 24 additional Americans.

Those to be freed were named as Ernest Hotz, Reuben Lenzer, Linus Lombard, John B. Maye, Lawrence Mullin and Alfred Peter Pattison.

Wilkins Air Force Base Sale Begins

SHELBY, Ohio (AP)—One of the Air Force's largest auctions of obsolete goods begins at Wilkins Air Force Base today.

Eight million dollars worth of material ranging from WAC's skirts to transport plane parts—most of it unused—is expected to attract buyers from Canada, Mexico and several other countries as well as from throughout the United States.

Items to be auctioned include 2½ million rubber heels, portable runway lighting equipment, oxygen generators, ski boots, fleece-lined jackets—and six million outdated Air Force shoulder patches.

Ike Attacks Criticism of TVA Policy

Not Trying To Destroy Public Power, He Says At Press Conference

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today anybody who accuses him of trying to destroy the Tennessee Valley Authority is in error—to put it as mildly as possible.

The administration's attitude toward TVA has come under hot debate in the Senate, revolving about an Eisenhower-endorsed proposal for a new private power source in the Tennessee Valley.

The President spoke out on the controversy at a news conference largely devoted to the Indochina settlement reached at Geneva. In the course of this discussion he said he does not believe the Communists are willing to risk an all-out war with the free world.

'In Good Shape'

As for his legislative program in general, Eisenhower said he thinks it is coming along in good shape although Congress is not giving him everything he asked for.

He spoke without rancor of yesterday's House vote turning down his four-year public housing program, and said simply he will make recommendations to the next Congress aimed at meeting the housing needs which will exist at that time.

The House rejected, 234 - 156, Eisenhower's program to build 140,000 public housing units in four years. The President said, however, his housing program as a whole has met with considerable success, and does include some public housing features.

Of National Scope

On the TVA controversy, Eisenhower said the question is a national and not simply a regional one. He described himself as not bound forever by his stand that private power should be fed into the TVA system as he directed in a recent order.

This order stirred up lengthy Senate debate which has delayed action on his atomic energy program as a whole.

The President said he's always willing to adopt a better course if one is shown to him.

Seeking Best Policy

But in the TVA dispute, he said, it is a question of building steam plants to produce electricity. He said the problem is: If the federal government is going to undertake the building of the plants, why not do it in such places as the Missouri Valley before doing it in the already developed Tennessee Valley region.

He emphasized he was simply trying to find out the facts, to determine the best policy, and he added with vigor that anybody who gets up and says there is any at-

Damage Widespread

Two Killed by Lightning In Ohio Electrical Storm

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Lightning killed two persons in Ohio yesterday as the second severe storm in less than a week ripped across most of the state.

Many communities still were repairing damage caused by the cloudburst that took four lives last Wednesday when yesterday's furious mixture of hail, wind, rain and lightning lashed the state.

A 21-year-old Columbus man was believed to be still a third victim of yesterday's storm. Police said Edward Cathrone, trapped on a sand bar in the rain-swollen Scioto River, apparently drowned.

River Rises 8 Feet

They said he apparently was swept downstream while hunting fishing bait. Officers reported the Scioto rose eight feet during the afternoon.

Northeastern Ohio was only slightly disturbed but the rest of the state was hit hard.

Central, southeastern and southwestern sections were struck most severely. Winds tore off roofs, upset trees and snapped power lines.

Mrs. Daisy Wilson, 67, of Crooked Tree, Noble County, and Millard Mincks, 36, of Macksburg, Washington County, were killed by lightning in their homes

Plant Roof Blown Off

Mrs. Wilson was struck as she stood near a kitchen stove. Her husband, Howard, shocked by the bolt, managed to put out a fire caused by the lightning. Authorities said the bolt apparently travelled through pipes into the stove.

Damages of $125,000 were reported at Shawnee, Perry County, when the storm lifted the roof off the Claycraft Brick Co., collapsed a brick wall and twisted steel girders. The plant's 150 employes had gone home only about an hour before the plant was hit.

The storm also ripped the roof from the Bible Church of God at Lebanon and tossed the roof of a greenhouse into a home Lebanon reported 3.4 inches of rain in the four-hour cloudburst.

Wilmington, near Lebanon, reported 4.5 inches of rain.

Hail Shreds Corn

Wind gusts of 74 m.p.h.—hurricane force—were reported at Findlay. At Zanesville, 71 m.p.h. winds were registered.

A violent hailstorm at Zanesville stripped cornfields, smashed windows and pounded through several roofs. The storm lasted 18 minutes there with the temperature dropping from 91 to 68.

Storm damage in the Sybene-Burlington area near Ironton was reported at $100,000. One house was flattened; roofs were blown off several other homes.

Police at Columbus reported 50 people were trapped downtown in cars when the storm struck, dropping power lines and trees across many streets. Flash floodwaters about three feet deep backed up into several homes.

Curtain Falls Over Millions In Viet Nam

Mendes-France Gets Armistice Within Four Hours After Deadline

GENEVA (AP) — France made peace with her Communist enemies in Indochina just before dawn today and a new Iron Curtain clanked down on 13 million persons in north Viet Nam.

Gen. Georges Delteil of France and Gen. Ta Quang Buu of the Vietminh rebels signed armistice agreements covering Viet Nam and Laos just 3 hours and 50 minutes after the Tuesday midnight deadline French Premier Pierre Mendes-France had set for peace or his resignation.

A truce for the third Indochina state, Cambodia, was scheduled to be signed later today.

The simple signing ceremony, under a blaze of photographers' lights in the former home of the League of Nations, called a halt to an eight-year war in which 92,000 soldiers of the French Union expeditionary corps died or disappeared.

It also laid a Korea-like partition across the 42-mile waist of Viet Nam, Indochina's largest, richest and most populous state, about at the 17th Parallel of latitude.

Communist leader Ho Chi Minh will take over the destinies of the residents north of the line. The 10 million Vietnamese below the partition will live under the pro-Western regime of chief of state Bao Dai.

All-Vietnamese elections, not earlier than one year from today and not later than two years, are

Hanoi, Saigon Take Armistice News Calmly

HANOI, Indochina (AP)—Vietnamese officials were reported hopping mad today at news the northern half of their country is being handed over to the Communists But many anti-Communist civilians in Hanoi figured they had been reprieved because they have 10 months to go south, instead of the maximum two they expected.

There were no demonstrations and mass expressions of rejoicing or sadness in either Hanoi or Saigon today as the cease-fire agreement partitioning Viet Nam was announced by press and radio

Officials of the north Viet Nam government refused to talk to reporters. Informed sources said they were readying hot protests to the French.

French army officials also were

Democrats Will Be Consulted, Jackson Claims

Will Insist on Voice In Selecting Cohn's Successor, He Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Jackson (D-Wash) said today the Democrats "will insist" on a voice in choosing a successor to Roy M. Cohn as chief counsel of the Senate Investigations subcommittee.

Chairman McCarthy (R-Wis) yesterday accepted Cohn's resignation with avowed reluctance. He also switched Donald A. Surine, another subcommittee aide, to his own office payroll He did so as a subcommittee majority comprising the Democrats and Sen. Potter (R-Mich) were pushing a showdown move to fire them.

Then, in closed meeting, the subcommittee unanimously confirmed in their jobs 22 other members of the staff, but withheld confirmation at least for the time being from another — former Secret Service Agent Thomas Lavenia, office manager and assistant counsel.

McCarthy confirmed officially that it was Surine and Lavenia to whom the Defense Department has refused to grant security clearance to handle secret documents. He said this was the reason the subcommitee, with his consent, had held up Lavenia's confirmation.

The subcommittee sent a new request to the Defense Department for an explanation of its reasons for holding up the clearances. It got a quick new turndown on grounds that a detailed explanation would require the disclosure of confidential information.

Mundt was asked whether Lavenia retains his access to classi-

Cole Rapped for Ouster Of 2 Housing Officials

WASHINGTON (AP)—The attorney for Burton C. Bovard said today Bovard and another government housing official lost their jobs because they opposed an attempted power grab by housing administrator Albert M. Cole.

Cole could not be reached immediately for comment.

Attorney Clayton L. Burwell has announced that Bovard will fight before the Civil Service Commission his ouster as general counsel of the Federal Housing Administration, a post he had held since 1948. Burwell has attributed Bovard's ouster to "political manipulations" by Cole.

Letter by Holliday

The attorney made available today a letter he said former housing commissioner Guy T. O. Holliday had written Feb. 19 to the White House chief of staff Sherman Adams saying Cole had proposed "abolishing" FHA and taking over its powers and those of other housing agencies.

Burwell said the ousters of both Holliday and Bovard stemmed from their opposition to such a proposal by Cole.

Since Holliday was dismissed, Burwell said in a statement, Cole has "accomplished all his objectives" through a reorganization provided in a housing agency money bill which became law June 24. Burwell said these powers were written into the bill "at the last moment and without hearings."

Eased Out of Jobs

Holliday and Bovard are among more than half a dozen key federal housing officials who have been eased out since the White House announced on April 12 the discovery of irregularities in the housing programs. Holliday was dismissed April 12, Bovard on July 15.

Cole said at the time that Holliday was asked to resign as FHA commissioner because he had known of abuses in the housing program and had not acted vigorously against them. Holliday praised President Eisenhower and said he was switching his voting registration from Democratic to Republican.

His successor, Norman P. Mason said in firing Bovard as FHA's general counsel that Bovard had not performed satisfactorily as chief legal officer of the agency which insures construction mortgages.

Rebuffs Investigators

Truth Serum Test Flatly Refused by Dr. Sheppard

CLEVELAND (AP)—Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard today flatly rejected a request by investigators that he take a truth serum in an effort to help solve the July 4 murder of his wife.

The 30-year-old osteopath told Dr. Alan R. Moritz, noted crime expert, that he had turned down the test on advice from his attorney.

Dr. Sheppard on several previous occasions had refused to submit to a lie detector test, saying his physical and emotional condition would prevent an accurate reading.

Equivalent to Test

In his rejection today, he said he was questioned while under sedatives shortly after the slaying and he regarded this as equivalent to a truth serum test.

He also said he was too upset emotionally and too fatigued to go through the ordeal.

As a third reason, the osteopath said he was "reluctant to put himself in a position where he might involuntarily incriminate innocent persons."

The serum request had been made by Dr. Moritz, who recently stepped into the case as an adviser.

The serum, a quick-acting barbiturate, usually sodium pentothal, is injected into the veins. The subject may then relate subconscious thoughts under questioning.

Often facts registered in the subconscious mind, but forgotten in the conscious, are recalled.

Not Admissable

Dr. Moritz had pointed out that results of the tests are not admissable in court.

"Its purpose is to aid investigators in their search for persons or things involved in a crime," he said.

The council of suburban Bay Village, where the murder took place, instructed its mayor to ask Cleveland police to take full charge of the investigation.

A $5,000 fund to finance the probe would be set up by the community.

Cleveland police had no immediate comment, but Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze of Cleveland earlier said he was inclined to go along with the request.

Dr. Sheppard's wife, Marilyn, was found dead in her bed, her head slashed by more than 30 blows. Few clues have been uncovered so far.

Heavy Rainfall Causes Break In Heat Wave

More than half an inch of rain fell on Marion last night and this morning bringing cool temperatures and a relief from searing heat which had scorched the city for most of the day.

The thermometer soared to an uncomfortable 91 Tuesday afternoon before cool air and rain brought relief.

A heavy wind and electrical storm, which buffeted Columbus and other cities in central and south Ohio failed to materialize here. Skies became cloudy in the afternoon, but the storm blew over with no damage reported.

With the rains last night came cooler air, dropping the mercury to 66 during the night. At 9 a.m. today, the cool weather was still in Marion as temperature readings at that time showed the city had 68 degree weather.

The rains came briefly with a shower around noon, which

Collective Defense Sought

U.S. Prepares To Drive For Southeast Asia Pact

WASHINGTON (AP) — The negotiated end of the war in Indochina is generally regarded here as a victory for the Communists and a defeat for the free world.

It halts a direct billion-dollar-a-year drain of money and arms on the United States.

But it also creates an urgent need to shore up non-Communist areas of Southeast Asia which will almost certainly impose new burdens on this country and its allies and absorb some or all of the Indochina savings.

Seek To Recover Aid

U. S. government officials have been talking with French leaders for several weeks about getting out of Red areas all arms and equipment which French and native anti-Communist forces have been equipped with. It is understood the French have given assurances this will be done.

It was learned, meanwhile, that the American and Allied governments are planning shortly to issue declarations of intent to form eventually a collective defense for Southeast Asia and warning the Communists not to undertake any new aggression in that area. Such action has been discussed with a number of friendly governments and reports today were that it had been substantially agreed upon.

Still Divided

The United States and Britain, however, are still divided over the timing of actual formation. Authorities estimate it will be many months before the projected defense system can be set up. The United States would have preferred quicker action but Britain is anxious to hold the cooperation of India to the fullest extent possible and consequently has been moving cautiously.

American officials studying the Indochina settlement signed today said privately its impact will reach far beyond Southeast Asia and probably will be felt throughout the whole range of relations between the Communist and non-Communist blocs.

Here are some of the potential results which may develop:

Red China—Authorities here expect that the French government of Premier Pierre Mendes-France, having succeeded in ending the Indochina war, will soon recognize the Communist China regime as Britain has done. This is expected to increase pressure for eventually

Koreans Critical of U. S. Aid Program

Editor's Note—Syngman Rhee, president of the Republic of Korea, is coming to Washington Monday to discuss his problems with President Eisenhower. It is just a year next Tuesday since the fighting died out in Korea, with a state of truce that East and West have been unable to resolve into a peace. What is it like today in South Korea, in terms of recovery and people's lives? This is the first of three articles depicting the controversial recovery program.

By ROBERT EUNSON

SEOUL (AP)—Clinton Tyler Wood has the job of giving away a billion dollars. At times he finds it a difficult task.

Wood is 54 and holds twin jobs—economic coordinator for the United Nations Command and head of the United States' Foreign Operations Administration in Korea. During the next four years he is expected to coordinate several aid programs intended to lift Korea from war's rubble and stand her on her own feet.

To give away a billion dollars in a country ravaged by three years of war would seem as easy as passing out ice cream cones on the Fourth of July. But wood is under constant fire from the people he is trying to help. There have been four thorns in his side since he came here last August and began to organize his staff of 19 to administer the FOA program.

First of a Series

1. Korean insistence that Wood and his staff go home and "simplify matters" by merely giving the money to Korean government leaders to spend.

2. Opposition to accepting even as gifts any articles manufactured in Japan.

3. A whispering campaign by Korean government employes that American aid money is being wasted by members of Wood's staff.

4. An editorial campaign in a government-owned paper charging waste, confusion and delay.

EVEN THOUGH there has been constant controversy, Wood feels there has been achievement. He cites anti-inflation controls and an agreement with the Republic of Korea on how the aid money is to be spent.

After four months' talks, former Prime Minister Paik Too Chun agreed that America would have a say in how its money would be spent. The formula was found in the creation of a combined economic board, with Paik and Wood jointly at the head. Once Paik and Wood have initialed a project it goes to Washington for final approval. FOA looks over the items needed and buys countries where certain items are considered good buys.

Korea doesn't mind where the articles are purchased — outside Japan. When the first items for purchase in Japan were listed the "Korean Republic" English language mouthpiece of the government warned:

"The lessons of the past are too recent and too well remembered by our people. Therefore we oppose all proposals that any considerable portion of reconstruction funds be expended in Japan."

Wood tried to explain that some US officials considered Japanese purchases a means of helping both countries. The official Korean newspaper objected that Japanese goods "are inferior in quality, and relatively higher in price, than the much more efficient and better quality American and European products." Wood has insisted there be no boycott of Japanese goods.

The "Korean Republic's" editorials critical of the aid program are written by Americans—Wilham Glenn, a former University of Southern California journalism teacher; Wilson Gaddis, a former US government employe in Japan, and O H P King, a former newsman in Texas. They are on Korea's payroll, with Glenn the government's chief adviser.

THE "KOREAN REPUBLIC" is owned by the Korea Information Service, Inc., financed by the Korean government. diplomats in Seoul consider its editorials the official government line. Although the editorials are not read by many Koreans because they are in English, there is a whispering campaign going against America.

Paik, Wood's opposite number on the economic board, made a success of banking before he was drafted into the government by President Syngman Rhee. He says Americans should remember one million Koreans were killed during the war, with five million left destitute.

"The volume of American aid is not sufficient to carry out both rehabilitation and meeting the war deficit," he adds. "We need more American aid, and we don't want any goods manufactured in Japan. The Japanese people still think of Korea as part of Japan because they occupied the country for so long. One of the mistakes was buying old and out of date machinery from Japan.

Asked to name specific items he replied, "spindles and mining equipment."

"Another mistake," Paik said, "was buying consumer goods from Japan at higher prices than they could buy them elsewhere. For example, they bought bituminous coal from Japan at $14 per ton while we could have bought the same coal from Formosa at $9."

Archibald Was There

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Each day at the Middlesex registry of deeds a call goes out over the public address system: "Paging Archibald Clancy."

No one, however, is really looking for Archibald Clancy. That's a code call meaning that employes may take a coffee break.

But yesterday, shortly after Mrs. Ruth Decatur of Reading, the switchboard operator, called for "Archibald Clancy," a man approached her and asked, "Is someone looking for me?"

Commies' Iron Curtain Cut by Fashion Gripes

BERLIN—(UP)—It took fashion to put a chink in the Iron Curtain where diplomacy failed.

East Berlin women put so much pressure on Communist officialdom for some Western chic that the Reds gave in. They have authorized production of fashions copying Paris and Fifth Avenue instead of Moscow.

Only a few weeks ago the Soviet zone ridiculed westernized styles as "decadent." But countless East German women complained in a steady flow of letters to Soviet zone newspapers against the "unity" type of practical clothes, designed by official Communist-run clothing manufacturers.

The Communists even went Western in names selected for the latest East Berlin styles.

A year ago dresses were called "Leipzig," "Dresden" or "Magdeburg." Now dresses are blithely named "Aphrodite," "Matinee," "Romance," "At the Racetrack" and "Gone With the Wind."

At state-run fashion shows in the Soviet zone, officials admitted they were giving in to pressure in permitting western-style designs. But they made it clear the new clothes will not be available immediately.

Clothes were presented under the official heading, "What women will wear in 1955."

Under the controlled East German production system the road between design and the store counter is long, and East German women fear, despite their first victory, that the Communists will continue to operate under the well-known procdure of "bathing suits in winter and winter coats in summer."

At a recent show organized by the East Berlin Trade Association, not one single working outfit was among the more than 100 creations paraded in a giant sports hall on the Soviet sector's famous Moscow-style "Stalinallee." The show featured suits modeled on the classical English line and afternoon dresses exemplary of Paris fashion ideas.

Paris designer Jacques Fath's new "governed silhouette" was translated into a gray street dress with a flowing hem-length green tie and green accessories. A classic-type navy blue suit had a boxy jacket and white touches at the wrist and throat, in the manner of Chanel of Paris.

The skilled drape, typical of Elsa Schiaparelli, accompanied a sophisticated black cocktail dress named "longing for Firenze," and "Martakesh," a glowing saffron silk afternoon affair, followed the clinging lines decreed by Hubert de Givenchy. Christian Dior's lily-of-the-valley line appeared in several of the East Berlin creations.

Former world's heavyweight champion Ezzard Charles had 42 fights as an amateur and won them all.

Wife Complains Locks Changed by Husband

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—Mrs. William H. Lister complained yesterday in Superior Court that her husband, who has been living apart from her, went to their home July 2 and had all the locks changed.

Mrs. Lister told the court she was forced to leave her mother in the house when she went out so she would be sure of getting back in.

Judge Mortimer A. Sullivan ruled that husband and wife still being legally married, both were entitled to use of the home and she should have keys to the locks.

DEATHS and FUNERALS

John A. Slaughter

ASHLEY—John A. Slaughter, 89, who recently suffered amputation of his remaining leg in Morrow County Hospital, died at 3:15 p.m. Tuesday at his home on the Westfield Rd. northwest of Ashley.

He had made his home on that farm since his marriage Aug. 15, 1885, to Miss Amelia Boston whose home it was. They celebrated their 68th wedding anniversary in 1953. He would have noted his 90th birthday Thursday.

Surviving are his wife, a daughter, Mrs. Jennie Gamble, formerly of Marion, who recently had made her home with her parents, and two granddaughters.

Funeral services will be in the C. R. Lee Funeral Home in Ashley at 2 p.m. Thursday, with burial in Ashley Union Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home after 6 p.m. this evening.

Mrs. Edward N. Smith

CAREY—Mrs. Emma E. Smith, 78, wife of Edward N. Smith of five and a half miles northeast of Carey, died at 3:10 p.m. yesterday in Mercy Hospital at Tiffin. Ill since Sunday, she was taken to the hospital Monday night.

Born June 4, 1876, at Mount Cory, she was the daughter of John and Nancy Ault Bergman. Her marriage was Dec. 28, 1905. A resident of the Carey community 17 years, she lived previously at Ada and Arcadia. She was a member of Christ Lutheran Church in Carey and of the McCutchenville Grange.

Surviving with her husband are her son, Paul Smith of northeast of Carey; a step-son, Ward Smith of Bloomville; two grandchildren; and two step-grandchildren. A daughter and a brother preceded her in death.

Funeral services will be conducted tomorrow at 2 p.m. in the Bristoll Funeral Home in Carey. Rev. John Root will officiate. Burial will be in Spring Grove Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home.

Mrs. John Green

RICHWOOD—Mrs. Martha Belle Green, 88, died at 11:30 last night in the home of a great-niece, Mrs. Walter Herford, west of Richwood, where she resided.

Born Feb. 16, 1866, in Morrow County, she was the daughter of Simon and Ann Karnes DeWitt. In 1893, in Union County, she married John Green who died in 1941. She was a member of the Disciples Church at Centerburg, and of the Pythian Sisters and the Rebekah Lodges.

Surviving are her son, Orley Green of Magnetic Springs, her grandson, Norman Green of Richwood; three great-grandchildren; and three great-great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted Friday at 2:30 p.m. in the Winter-Milligan Funeral Chapel in Richwood. Rev. Evangeline Smith will officiate. Burial will be in Hopewell Cemetery. Friends may call at the Herford home.

6 Youths Arrested At Bucyrus 'Pool'

BUCYRUS — Swimming in the municipal reservoir near Bucyrus resulted in five Shelby youths and one youth from Tiro being given a lecture by Police Chief Arthur L. Stuckert Tuesday after they had been taken into custody Monday night.

The youths were arrested by Sheriff Elwood Jacobs after he had received a complaint from an unidentified passing motorist that the youths had thrown beer on his car. The sheriff turned the six youths over to police after which they were ordered to report Tuesday morning.

The group included Eugene Fry, 18, Donald Fry, 20, and John Ault, 19, all of near Shelby; Donald Hanlon, 18, of Tiro; a 16-year-old and a 17-year-old boy from Shelby.

Authorities fished 12 bottles of beer out of the reservoir where the youths had been swimming.

Test With Rockets

Fantastic Work Routine For Western Air Center

ALAMOGORDO, N. M. (AP)—The fantastic has become routine in little more than five years at Holloman Air Development Center.

Any week and every week rockets can be shot 90 miles up into space, carrying incredibly complex electronic instruments to ask questions and get answers on what's what up there.

For instance, one mission of the last 20-foot Aerobee rocket whooshed upwards from the White Sands desert floor was checking wind velocity and direction in the upper atmosphere.

The rocket itself hurtles upward at supersonic speed—not very much less than a mile a second or 3,600 miles an hour.

The wind check instruments and tiny vanes mounted in jeweled bearings. What they find out is recorded by electronic method.

All the rocket checks—on temperature, radiation, light and chemical changes—have a military purpose. Missiles are being developed that fly or will fly in these altitudes.

Instruments to guide these missiles must be perfected. How upper atmosphere conditions affect this guiding gear must be learned.

The Air Force Cambridge Research Center, at Cambridge, Mass., assigns rocket missions to such schools as Michigan, Colorado, Utah and Rhode Island universities and correlates the findings.

The Holloman center provides the testing ground. The 658th Test Squadron provides the men whose routine duty is to shoot Aerobee rockets 90 miles toward the sky.

Holloman, an abandoned wartime B29 base whose barracks were blowing apart in the desert winds in 1947, now is a massive science fiction layout of radar cones, blockhoused instrumentation centers and airstrips.

Galion Native Succumbs At Home in Bellefontaine

GALION — Funeral services will be held Thursday at 10:30 a.m. in the Eicholtz Funeral Home at Bellefontaine for Frank A. Trautman, native of Galion. He died suddenly at 4 p.m. Monday at his home in that city.

Mr. Trautman, a retired Big Four Railroad shop foreman, was born in Galion, Sept. 29, 1886, the son of Adam and Sarah Hull Trautman. He was a member of the Lutheran church, and a 32nd degree Mason.

Surviving are his widow; two daughters, Mrs. Manzeneta Shuck and Mrs. Dale E. Fox of Cincinnati; three grandsons; a sister, Miss Lydia Marcus of Galion; and a brother, R. L. Trautman of Galion.

STUDY RECORD BUDGET

CINCINNATI (AP)—The board of Hamilton County commissioners has under study a record budget for 1955 of $23,419,774. This surpasses by $1,648,775 the present budget. Biggest hike comes from the welfare department, which asked the board yesterday for an additional $631,500.

Man Admits Threatening Letter, Fined $250, Costs

A fine of $250 and costs was levied against Richard Butterman, 23, of 871 N. State St., when he changed a plea of not guilty to guilty Tuesday in Common Pleas Court to a charge of writing a threatening letter.

He was arrested May 17 by Marion police on a charge of breaking and entering the home of Miss Betty Hopkins of 208 S. Main St. on May 10, and was bound over to the grand jury. Jury members returned an indictment of writing a threatening letter.

Beagle Hound Stolen

Theft of a beagle hound from a shed at his home was reported to the Marion County sheriff's office Tuesday afternoon by Earl Foreman of Woodbine Ave.

Foreman said the dog, a three-year-old female, was taken from the shed which housed three dogs. It was broken into on July 13, he told investigating deputies.

He placed a $75 value on the dog which was black, white and tan.

HALF-MILLION ESTATES

Big Firms' Profits Up

1954 Corporate Earnings Likely To Top Last Year's

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Record earnings by some corporate giants are more than offsetting the more sober plight of half of the nation's business firms.

Early birds reporting on their second quarter net income after taxes show today that more than half are running behind their 1953 figures. And six of the 49 to report so far operated in the red in the last three months—while only one did a year earlier.

But so rosy are the reports of some of the big boys that lumping the earnings of the 49 you get a net income total 7.4 per cent higher than the same companies chalked up in the April, May and June period of 1953—a period which for the nation's business generally saw an earnings peak until that time.

Of the 49, there were we with rosier statements this year and 26 who did better the year before.

GOOD GAINS in profits this year are reported by du Pont and General Electric, although each had lower sales volume than a year ago. The end of the excess profits tax gets a large share of the credit.

Operating costs, too, are down for a number of firms—reflecting the use of new and more efficient equipment, and management economies.

Continenal Can and Container Corp. also show good earnings increases. Others on the plus side include cement companies, utilities, food processors, and building material firms.

The majority of banks show earnings statements are now available also shows earnings gains this year.

But six companies report their operations in red ink for the three months just ended. Five of them are in the depressed textile industry and one makes railroad equipment.

Considerable decline in profits from a year ago are reported by some companies making steel, brass, machinery. Slight drops in earnings are reported by others in the aluminum, business machine, rayon, and piping business, as well as some other steel concerns.

None need be taken as typical of its industry. For this appears to be a year of wide divergence between industries and between company results within industries.

For example, while most cement companies so far reporting show better results this year, one reports its earnings down from a year ago.

FORTY-NINE companies are far too few, also, upon which to draw more than a mere indication of those earnings will finally average out, a month or more hence, when the majority of corporations will have reported. The big flood of second quarter reports is still a couple of weeks off.

But the early birds do indicate that this year's corporate performance is going to be as spotted as a leopard's skin.

Some companies have marched ahead to new records while the majority of business was slowing down during the transition to a peacetime economy after the Korean boom.

The construcion industry, for instance, hasn't heard of the recession—the textile industry is bitterly aware of it.

Steel companies can't hope to match 1953's booming demand—aircrafts expect to set a record for peacetime output and doubtless for profits.

The 49 companies so far reporting had combined net earnings of $298,532,311 for this year's April, May and June period, against a total of $277,859,801 in the second quarter of 1953.

This 7.4 per cent gain is unlikely to be the same figure that will measure the result when all corporations are reported—but it seems to indicate that final results will be close.

The first major human heart surgery to correct congenital defects was performed in 1938.

SHE WANTS 'OUT.' Hollywood school girl Shirley Beattie Wolfe, 17, has brought a $220,000 divorce suit against hotel owner Glynn Wolfe, who, she claims, falsely represented himself as single, then eloped with her to Juarez, Mex. She says he beat her and then deserted her. At the time, Glynn was in court frequently trying to untangle his Juarez marriages and divorces with two actresses.

GEESE ARE SAVED

DENVER (AP) — The call of the wild goose will linger longer and return oftener to Colorado, once a new state project at Bonny Dam reservoir gets going. A flock earth bound by clipped wings has been released in an open-top 10-acre pen to let nature take its course. First goslings will be held two years to add to the breeding stock and thereafter the experts expect birds raised on the refuge to "come home" each year.

Scientist Tells Of Jaunt Into Enemy's Lines

PRICETON, N. J. (UP)— Dr. Charles Phelps Smyth participated in a scientific cloak-and-dagger mission behind Nazi lines during World War II that was just as top-secret as the atomic bomb he helped develop.

Smyth, 58, one of the nation's leading atomic scientists, told for the first time of seven months behind-the-line sleuthing in Germany in 1944 and 1945.

The soft-spoken Princeton University chemistry professor also disclosed his role as a member of the "Alsos Mission," a scientific intelligence unit that gathered information on Germany's research work on V-2 rockets and other guided missiles.

Smyth said he suddenly was taken from one mission, rushed to Paris, uniformed as a colonel, then sent back to Germany guarded by men from the Army Engineering Corps. This was the "Alsos Mission." Alsos being Greek for "Groves" in honor of Maj. Gen. Leslie R. Groves, who headed the atomic bomb project.

They crossed the Rhine, reached Frankfort after a four-day jeep ride and mingled with the people. Smyth, who had a working knowledge of German, learned the center of German high command military research was loacted in a 1,000-year-old moated stone castle near Nordheim.

They captured the German research council chief in the tower. This suave, courteous German offered the Americans liquor, and later, all the information they had come to obtain.

For this, Smyth received his country's Medal of Freedom, a special citation and a rich treasure of scientific lore. Recently, the New York section of the American Chemical Society awarded him its William H. Nichols Medal for 1954.

His brother, Henry DeWolf Smyth, is a member of the Atomic Energy Commission.

"TIP TOPPER." Second shortest contestant in the "Tall Clubs" beauty contest in Palo Alto, Calif., Joan Van Came, of Chicago, 5 feet 11½, is shown after winning the crown. The contest was part of the 8th annual convention of the clubs, better known as the "tip toppers." Members must be at least 5 feet 10.

Motorist in Fatal Crash at Crestline Under $1,500 Bond

BUCYRUS—Lucius C. Young, 30, of Chicago, pleaded innocent to a manslaughter charge at his arraignment Tuesday before Mayor Nelson Lee at Crestline and was released after furnishing $1,500 bond. He was held to the Crawford County grand jury.

State Highway Patrolmen, who filed the charge, said Young was driver of the car, which struck a farm wagon and tractor, driven by Mrs. William E. Spangler, 26, of Crestline, Saturday noon near Crestline. Mrs. Spangler died Sunday in Crestline Emergency Hospital as a result of injuries received in the crash.

Services for Mrs. Spangler, the mother of three small children, were held Tuesday afternoon in Calvary Evangelical and Reformed Church in Crestline.

SWIACKI BACK AGAIN

NEW YORK (AP) — Bill Swiacki is glad to return to the New York football Giants as end coach. After all, he was literally "elected" by the New York fans to play for the Giants after the 1947 season. The Giants had conducted a poll to determine the player the public would most like to see on the team. Swiacki won by a wide margin. So a deal was made with the Boston Yanks who had drafted him out of Columbia. And the New York fans saw their wish come true.

Ancient siege engines threw stones up to 600 pounds in weight.

Drive Planned To Popularize Olympic Games

NEW YORK (UP) — The U. S. Olympic Committee has expressed hope that Olympic Day may some time become as popular as the Fourth of July, Labor Day, and May day and that the world's greatest international sports program will have as much appeal as the World Series or a traditional football game.

Congress has asked President Eisenhower to proclaim Oct. 16 Olympic Day in a bid to rally the nation's sports enthusiasts behind America's top amateur athletes who will compete in the 1956 Winter Olympics at Cortina d'Ampezzo, the Olympics in Australia, that summer and the Pan American Games in Mexico City in March, 1955.

The Olympic Committee says it plans to raise and spend a million dollars to send more than 300 athletes to Melbourne, 100 skaters, skiers and bobsled riders to the Italian Alps, and nearly 300 athletes to Mexico City to help promote peace, understanding and sportsmanship. The games, which were held for nearly 1,200 years in ancient Greece, were revived in Athens in 1896.

Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson, Olympic Committee president, said Olympic Day, which will be an annual affair, is designed to stimulate interest in the games in the four years between competitions, and to serve as a focal point for a nationwide effort to raise part of the funds to help equip, transport and maintain our national Olympic team.

"Another reason for starting the fund-raising early is because the U.S. Olympic Committee is now also responsible for American representation in the Pan American Games," he said.

"It is expected that special events will be held in schools and colleges throughout the country on Oct. 16. At least 20 major national amateur sports organizations also will stage special events at which an appeal will be made for funds. It is the committee's intention to get more small contributions in the future instead of attempting to rely on a few large ones."

Wilson pointed out that several well-to-do businessmen saved the 1952 Helsinki-bound Olympic team from financial chaos when $1,020,000 in pledges to the Bob Hope-Bing Crosby coast-to-coast Olympic telethon dwindled to $350,000 in actual collections.

SWITCH-HITTER SWITCHES

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Catcher Ebba St. Clair of the New York Giants plans to bat left-handed only this season. St. Claire, traded to the Giants from the Braves prior to spring training, used to be a switch-hitter. "I can't hit the lefties when I bat right," he claimed. "So I guess I'll bat lefty only and stop switching."

Man Up in Air On Water Skis

SACRAMENTO, Calif. —(UP)— The chills and thrills of water skiing are attracting many sports enthusiasts these days, but a Sacramento man has added a dangerous embellishment. He water skis 65 feet in the air.

Vrn Crary, a 29-year-old state employe, draws thousands of spectators to local aquacades. Twice during a show Crary will take to the air, suspended from a trapeze attached a few feet below a huge 10-by-12-foot kite.

Crary believes the stunt is unique in the United States at this time. But he says he saw it done years ago by a man in Long Beach, Calif., and decided to try it when he took up water skiing five years ago.

The kite is the conventional shape of those used by children in vacant lots and is covered with muslin treated with airplane dope. A type of stationary trapeze hangs from its underside.

Crary grasps the trapeze with both hands and the kite is attached to the towline of a fast speedboat. He says the ascent and descent of the kite depends solely on the speed attained by the boat. He can guide direction of flight to some extent, however, by banking the kite slightly by pushing and pulling on the ends of the trapeze.

Crary says the kite takes to the air between 25 and 30 miles an hour and goes to about 65 feet at 45 miles an hour.

He says he built the kite with the aid of other members of the Sacramento Water Ski Club, but the other members have not been able successfully to solo the contraption.

Crary lands when the speed of the boat is gradually cut. He guides the kite back down to the 50-foot-wide water skiing channel of the State Fairgrounds and lands on his water skis.

To the 2,500 fans who pack the grandstand to watch, Crary's flight is a dangerous and breathtaking stunt. But to Crary hanging full length by his hands from a kite 65 feet in the air is just another day of recreaton.

OUT OF CONVENT. 20-year-old Marie Dionne, the quintuplet who entered the Servants of the Blessed Sacrament convent in Quebec, has left her religious life due to ill health, it was reported. It is "probable though not certain" she will return, it was said.

Michigan State' Bob Hoke, who has won two Big Ten titles and one NCAA wrestling championship, was awarded the 1954 Big Ten Medal for proficiency in scholarship and athletics.

THREE-TIME CAPTAIN

MISSOULA, Mont. (AP)—Jack Daniels will be the 1955 Montana University swimming captain. It is the third straight year that the swimming team has elected Daniels, backstroke swimmer from Helmsville. And it is the first time in the school's history that an athlete has been elected captain of a varsity team three consecutive years.

During the American Revolution muskets were so scarce that Benjamin Franklin advised the use of bows and arrows and New York militiamen were flod to arm themselves with shovels, pickaxes and scythes.

Former Mental Patient Seized In Love Death

Police Claim Suspect Murdered Illinois Girl He Had Been Courting

JOLIET, Ill. (AP) — A 43-year-old onetime mental patient was seized last night for the lover's lane slaying of an 18-year-old schoolgirl he reportedly had been dating secretly for two years.

The suspect, Anthony Stefanish, was charged with murdering pretty brunette Doris Bogart. He told police she was shot to death Saturday night by three masked men who stopped his car on a country road.

He said he drove her body around the countryside for two days without notifying the police "because they railroaded me once before," when he was sent to a mental institution.

Miss Bogart's body was found early yesterday sprawling out of the door of Stefanich's car parked in a lover's lane near a Joliet area cemetery. She had been missing since Saturday night.

She had been shot twice, in the shoulder and in the heart.

Scratches and bruises on her body and the disarray of her blue jeans and plaid shirt led officers to speculate she was killed while resisting sexual advances.

Friends of the dead girl said she had been seeing Stefanich secretly for two years. One of them Carol Bishop, 20, said she once told her that "if anything happens to me, look for Tony."

The dead girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Bogart of Joliet, learned of their daughter's death while visiting with Mrs. Bogart's mother across Puget Sound from Seattle.

Near collapse from grief, they made immediate plane reservations for the return trip to Joliet.

"Doris was a good girl," her mother said tearfully, "and all of her dates were with boys around her own age. Neither of us ever heard of Stefanich or knew of any connection Doris might have had with an older man."

weather officials said "didn't amount to much." However, at 9 p.m., a rain began which lasted almost all night and on into this morning. A total of .61 of an inch of water was recorded at the weather station through 7:30 this morning.

Rain should continue most of the day, according to the official forecast for the area. Cool weather will remain at least through today, with the temperature expected to rise Thursday.

Delaware County Home Damaged During Storm

ASHLEY — The Delaware County Home on the Delaware-Kilbourne Rd. southeast of Ashley was considerably damaged yesterday afternoon when a wind and rainstorm hit this section. Part of the porch and house roofs were torn off, a large maple tree near the back porch fell, and other shade trees were damaged. Two television antennas on the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Van Divort, supervisors, were torn down. Damage was estimated at between $800 and $1,000. Last week's storm at the home caused nearly $3,000 damage to a silo and to trees.

Lightning Strikes, Sets House in Marion Ablaze

One case of storm damage in Marion was reported this morning by Marion Fire Department officials. They said lightning struck the roof of the house of Mrs. Frankie James of 146 Latourette St.

A fire on the roof was extinguished by men from the Central station. They estimated the loss to the building at $50.

$25,000 Sought In Suit as Result Of Fatal Crash

A $25,000 wrongful death action filed today in Common Pleas Court names JoAnne S. Gallina, 17, and her father, Carl, of 901 York St., as defendants. Filing the suit was Ralph L. Stoner of 368 Girard Ave., administrator of the estate of his daughter, Joyceanne.

Miss Stoner was fatally injured Nov. 10, 1953 when a car in which she was riding, being driven by Miss Gallina, failed to negotiate a curve on Route 739 about a quarter of a mile west of Green Camp.

The two girls, accompanied by two other schoolmates, were returning from Richwood to Marion to rejoin a Business-Industry-Education Day tour of Marion industries sponsored by the schools and the Chamber of Commerce.

Stoner, in his petition, claims that Miss Gallina was driving in a "reckless manner at a high, dangerous and unlawful rate of speed of more than 70 miles per hour."

Miss Gallina, after being found guilty of second-degree manslaughter in Miss Stoner's death, was sentenced to six months in the Marion County Juvenile Detention Home by Judge Edward J. Ruzzo in December following her indictment by the grand jury.

The law firm of Donithen, Michel and Davis is representing Stoner in this action.

supposed to reunite the divided country. But Western officials here generally conceded the "temporary" partition line probably will become a political and ideological frontier like those which split Germany and Korea.

Officials said the texts of the agreements would not be published for several days, but their contents already were generally known.

Civilians on either side of the partition line will have one year to move to the other side if they desire.

The French have the next 300 days to move out of the big northern cities of Hanoi and Haiphong. Until that day next May they will hold an enclave in the Red River Delta around those two major centers.

Cambodia and Laos will remain under their French-supported royal governments. Vietminh troops which have invaded their territory — an estimated 10,000 in Laos, fewer in Cambodia — will withdraw in 60 days.

For military security reasons the date for the end of hostilities was not announced. One Vietnamese official said, however, that cease-fire orders would become effective in a week for the regular forces on both sides. Guerrilla fighters in the jungles and mountains would be given a longer period, he added.

The partition line across Viet Nam runs along the Song Ben Hair River. It leaves Highway No. 9, a principal road leading from the coast across the country to Laos, in the hands of southern Viet Nam. The south also retains the major port of Tourane and ex-emperor Bao Dai's royal capital, Hue, both in central Viet Nam.

Cambodia signed with the Vietminh a 12:42 p.m. Representatives of all parties to the Indochina conference gathered for the ceremony, including Lt. Col. John E. Dwan of the U. S. Army. Nihek Tioulong, commander in chief of Cambodian forces, signed for Cambodia and Gen. Ta Quang Buu for the Vietminh.

Danube Flood Wrecks Dam, 5,000 Evacuated

GYOER, Hungary (AP) — Danube River floodwaters burst a vital dam near this industrial city of 70,000, forcing the evacuation of 5,000 inhabitants. Another 25,000 fled their homes in 24 nearby villages.

Hungarian and Russian troops are aiding volunteers in the fight to stem the flood and protect districts where some of the most important factories in this country are located.

Ex-Portsmouth City Manager Found Innocent

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP) — A Scioto County Common Pleas Court jury of seven women and five men today returned a directed verdict of acquittal in the case of Edwart T. Beall, former Portsmouth city manager charged with embezzlement.

Judge Vernon Smith sustained a motion of defense attorney E. G. Littleton, made yesterday, asking for the directed verdict because the state had failed to show a crime had been committed.

A previous motion to dismiss had been overruled by the court.

Beall was accused of embezzling $78.81 from the city - operated Portsmouth General Hospital. He had been acting head of the hospital while city manager.

Judge Smith said criminal charges must be proven without reason of a doubt, and an indictment does not presume guilt. He praised prosecuting attorney William H. Harsha Jr. for presentation of the case but added "evidence cannot be manufactured."

Beall, who resigned as manager of Montgomery County, Md., after the indictment had been returned against him, embraced his wife after the verdict and said he was going to return to Silver Springs, Md., to make his permanent home. He said he might make an effort to be restored to his job as county manager.

Eisenhower

tempt to destroy TVA is, to put it as mildly as possible, in error.

The President began his news conference with a prepared statement saying he was glad agreement to stop the bloodshed in Indochina had been reached, although "The agreement contains features which we do not like."

Eisenhower said "Any renewal of Communist aggression would be viewed by us as a matter of grave concern."

And he said this country will actively pursue "the rapid organization of a collective defense in Southeast Asia in order to prevent further direct or indirect Communist aggression in that general area."

A reporter asked what significance the President attached to the fact that, for just about the first time in 20 years, there isn't a war going on somewhere in the world.

Thoughtfully, Eisenhower said he never has felt that—except for satellite excursions—The Communist world wants war with the West at this time.

He went on to say he does not believe the Kremlin intends to make a deliberate challenge to the free world—a challenge to a war of exhaustion.

The President was asked, in connection with next week's visit by South Korean President Syngman Rhee, if he regards the present partition of Korea as permanent—short of war—and whether South Korea would be included in his proposed Southeast Asia defense pact.

Eisenhower noted this country already has a mutual defense treaty with South Korea. Asserting the United Nations achieved its purpose of throwing back the Communist invasion of South Korea, he said he doesn't know of anyone who has ever proposed another war to free North Korea.

Always Controversial

During his discussion of his housing program, Eisenhower remarked that public housing always has been controversial. He said he believes that, given proper help, private enterprise probably can do the best job of housing the people.

But in the meantime, he said, you have the problem of people living in bad housing.

So, he said, he proposed 35,000 public housing units a year for the next four years.

On other matters, Eisenhower had this to say:

1. The Senate Republican leadership never has asked him for an opinion on the move by Sen. Flanders (R-Vt) to censure the activities of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis). He said he had voiced no opinion and was voicing none.

Oil Stand Unchanged

2. He has never implied to anyone he has modified his views on the off-shore oil question, and any confusion that exists is in somebody else's mind, not his. This statement was in response to a Texas newsman's question. Eisenhower recently reaffirmed that he thinks Texas should have the offshore lands 10½ miles from its gulf coast, rather than three miles as is the case with most coastal states. A question has arisen, however, whether the Justice Department shares this view and the question is an issue in the Texas primary election.

3. He doesn't know exactly what Sen. Lehman (D-Lib-NY) was talking about when Lehman suggested the international exchange portion of the atomic energy bill would restrict the President's dealings with foreign countries.

4. He was guided by Atty. Gen. Brownell when he issued his controversial order to the Atomic Energy Commission to negotiate a contract for private power to be fed into the TVA system. Somebody, the President said, has to exercise responsibility in these matters. He was speaking in response to a question suggesting the President's authority to issue such an order had been questioned.

Narcotics

First indication that the ring was operating in Marion came on July 6 when an unnamed person informed city police that the Fostoria trio were attempting to obtain prescriptions for morphine tablets from a local doctor.

Police were also told that when the doctor asked Mrs. Laney to submit to a physical examination to determine her need for the drug she refused permission.

Alerted to the possibility of the start of a drug ring, city police kept on the alert for a repitition of the attempt to obtain the drugs. On July 19, they were again told that a man—Clarence Little—had obtained a prescription for morphine tablets from a Marion doctor.

Chief Coon immediately assigned policemen to watch two local drugstores. They saw Mrs. Laney enter one of the stores, make a purchase and leave. They followed her until she went to a car in which Little and her husband were waiting. As the car drove off they followed it south on Route 23 to just south of the city limits where they ordered the driver, Laney, to stop.

POLICE NOTICED that Little threw a cigarette package from the stopped car and on picking it up found it contained a syringe and needle used to inject the drug into the body. The supply of morphine tablets was also taken from the car.

Later in questioning by city police and Narcotics Agent Albert Cook of Columbus, the trio admitted to obtaining "at least 10" fraudulent prescriptions for narcotics from the Marion doctor.

Further in the questioning they implicated Smith and others in Findlay in the dope ring. Smith was arrested by Findlay police Tuesday evening and brought to Marion for further questioning. He also admitted to local police that he had fraudulently obtained narcotic drugs prescriptions in Marion. Velma Mahoney was taken into custody only today by Findlay police and was to be brought to Marion for questioning on her part in the ring.

CHIEF COON said that an investigation of the activities of the three Fostoria residents and the Findlay man and others in Findlay is still in progress and "it's no telling how far this thing may go."

Narcotics Agent Cook was called in on the case by city police. Officials at the Columbus office said he was called in after the police uncovered the situation.

Officials there had high praise for the work of the local police. They said the aggressiveness and cooperation rendered by police had prevented a "bad situation" from becoming worse, and without the local police work, the arrests could never have been made.

An investigation of a similar situation in Loudonville is now in progress by federal agents and Loudonville police. In that city, another doctor is being checked to see if his activities parallelled those of the Marion physician.

Narcotics Bureau officials said the case of the Marion doctor was not one of law violation, but rather one of "very poor" judgment. They said he was within the law in his approval of drug prescriptions for the addicts but failed to exercise good judgment in the matter.

TO AVOID a repetition of the same thing, narcotics men confiscated his Federal Narcotics Tax Stamp, which a doctor must have to make drug prescriptions.

Full credit for the uncovering of the situation here and the pushing of the investigation to a successful completion was given to the police officials by federal men.

NEW-STYLE PICKETS

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A new style in picketing appeared here yesterday.

Instead of carrying the usual lettered cardboard sign, 14 discharged employes of the Cobak Manufacturing Co. walked around twirling yo-yos and bouncing rubber balls.

The Communists seem to have lost out in Guatemala, and it may be that they have more trouble in little, tough countries than in big, soft ones.

Blind Makers Of Brooms on Sitdown Strike

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Twenty men slept fitfully in a brilliantly lighted room last night—men who "want to work and don't want charity."

The 20 are blind.

They are broom makers who have lost their jobs and they're on a sitdown strike.

The men took over the cafeteria of the Pittsburgh branch of the Pennsylvania Assn. for the Blind yesterday afternoon. A few hours later, when they showed no sign of leaving, police were called.

Officers made no attempt to evict the men. A detail watched as they tried to sleep. Some of the men slept awhile, then talked of their next step. A few played cards—with a marked deck of course, marked in Braille.

The blind broom makers went on strike last March 2, protesting a pay cut. They have no union.

Shortly after daylight several of the men established a picket line outside the building which also houses handycraft work shops for about 60 other blind persons.

There was no immediate indication if the other craft workers would observe the picket lines.

James Wrigley, acting general manager of the broom shop said:

"If they try to stay in the building again tonight, I'm afraid we'll have to get them out."

Wrigley said he isn't sure what method he would use to evict the strikers.

James Leri, 29, married and the father of one child, said:

"We had been paid $1.13 a dozen to make brooms. The association tried to cut us to 78 cents a dozen and we walked off the job. But a short time ago we offered to go back to work for 90 cents a dozen.

"We decided to put on a sitdown strike and went to the cafeteria for a meeting yesterday. Some of the association officials called police and said we had to get out by 5 p.m. Well, we're still here and we are going to stay for awhile. We might try to picket the place later in the day. I don't know just what we'll do.

"We just want to go back to wor kand we don't want charity—that's all there is to it."

Pact

seating Red China in the United Nations over U. S. opposition.

European Defense Community—Mendes-France has promised to place the EDC Treaty before the French Assembly for a vote prior to adjournment next month. But French opposition to German rearmament under this proposed pact remains strong. Also, it may be considerably boosted by a feeling that the ending of the Indochina fighting will lessen the danger of Communist assault on Europe.

Russian diplomacy—The Reds are expected to play even more loudly the role of crusaders for peace, citing their willingness to negotiate a settlement at Geneva as evidence of sincerity. This very likely will make a big impression in Europe and even more in Asia.

In Washington's view the Indochina settlement constitutes a Communist victory. One reason is that it adds a large, productive territory and millions of people to the Communist bloc.

Furthermore, the Reds have gained a secure base from which to conduct their classic combination of infiltration, political pressures and propaganda on the rest of Indochina—southern Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia.

McCarthy

fied material in the subcommittee's files pending a decision. He replied:

"He has access, but I don't think he has much to do with handling classified documents. There is no change in his status."

McCarthy said in a statement he had shifted Surine, a former FBI agent, to his own office payroll to give Surine and his family some relief from "pro-Communist smearing."

Cohn's resignation and the transfer of Surine let the steam out of the threatened showdown in which Potter and Senators Jackson, Symington (D-Mo) and McClellan (D-Ark) were seeking the scalps of both men.

Jackson said the Democrats resumed membership on the subcommittee in January, ending a six-month walkout, with assurances of the right to have all staff appointments subject to a majority vote of the members.

House Prober Searching for Reds at Antioch

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House Un-American Activities Committee investigator is checking into accusations of communism at Antioch College, Rep. Scherer (R-Ohio) said yesterday.

Antioch officials have denied repeatedly that there are any subversive elements or pro-Communist groups either in the faculty or student body. Only recently spokesmen for the college said they would welcome any fair investigation.

The investigator, Jackson Jones, is checking only mailed complaints regarding Antioch and the surrounding area, including Yellow Springs and Dayton, Scherer emphasized.

Scherer said a request by Antioch's new president, Samuel Gould, for a talk with Jones was granted.

The committee several months ago had an investigator at the college, but nothing came of it, Scherer said.

Lowell Fess, a state Republican senator from Yellow Springs, said he would ask full support for the Antioch investigation at the Ohio conventions of the Disabled American Veterans and the American Legion.

Here on private business, Fess also said he talked to Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis), about the resignation of Roy Cohn as counsel of McCarthy's investigating subcommittee.

"I told Joe I would take this resignation matter to the floors of those veterans conventions, too," Fess said. He added he greatly admires McCarthy.

Hearing Postponed For Radio Station Official in Toledo

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Communications Commission yesterday postponed until Sept. 15 a hearing centered about radio and newspaper executive Edward Lamb of Toledo, Ohio. Scheduled July 28, the date was moved to allow attorneys time to argue whether Lamb should get a bill of particulars on FCC information concerning him. The hearing will determine whether his license for WICU-TV at Erie, Pa., will be renewed. The FCC claims he has been charged with Communist associations, which Lamb repeatedly has denied.

silent, pending receipt of official confirmation of the news.

It was believed, however, that in the interim until the effective cease-fire hour French Union troops would push no military operations against the Communist-led Vietminh and would only defend themselves against attacks by the rebels.

Only yesterday, 10,000 French and Vietnamese troops had carried out mopup operations in sectors 18 miles northeast of Hanoi. Sharp, quick attacks by each side were reported yesterday at various other points as the Geneva negotiations drew to a close.

The big surprise in Hanoi was the agreement that the French have 300 days to get out of the northern capital and Haiphong. No one had anticipated such a lengthy evacuation period.

To businessmen with businesses they have been unable to sell and stocks only partially whittled down the news brought smiles if not cheers.

Summertime temperatures are like the national debt in that after they pass a certain figure any further increase is only of theoretical interest.

Rotarians Hear Discussion on AA Operations

Marion Rotarians heard an interesting and informative discussion by Merle Wise of Marion on the work of Alcoholics Anonymous at the club's weekly luncheon meeting Tuesday noon at Hotel Harding.

Mr. Wise outlined the 12 steps followed by Alcoholics Anonymous in helping people who seek the aid of the group. He pointed out that a person must first want assistance and most of the impetus in overcoming the problem must come from the person involved.

Five Rotarians from other cities were guests at the meeting. They were Rev. Carroll Bates of Tiffin, Jack Berryhill of Barnesville, O., M. P. Babcock of Springfield, S. D., Robert C. Fenwick Jr. of Delaware, and J. L. Patterson of Cardington. Other guests were Don Grace and Arthur Busch, both of Marion.

Untapped Wealth

By George Sokolsky

It is surprising to learn from the report of the Malone committee that less than one per cent of the area of the United States has been included in geological investigations How then do we know what our mineral wealth is?

SOKOLSKY

We are constantly being told that our foreign policy is to a degree based on our shortages of certain minerals and materials. How do we know? Only 12.7 per cent has been geologically mapped by the United States Geological Survey which began to work in 1880.

I wonder how much of our various contributions to foreign aid has been spent in distant countries to discover minerals that have to be brought to us across the oceans in time of war? The defeat of the French in Indochina means in American terms, that Burma, Malaya and Indonesia are in peril within a few years, thus imperiling our principal source of tin and raw rubber

The Malone committee definitely assures the country: "The United States cannot possibly exhaust its present and potential fuels supply including petroleum and coal in the foreseeable future The absolute necessity for going-concern industries cannot be over-emphasized "

THE PETROLEUM industry benefits by depletion allowances which encourage risk investments in this commodity, The committee recommends that depletion allowances be granted other mineral industries as an incentive for risk investment.

The committe reports: "Enormous oil reserves are found in the shales and-or coal of Colorado, Wyoming, Utah, Kentucky, Indiana, and Ohio, as well as in Canada. It has been estimated these shales contain over 200 billion barrels of oil.

Experimental work by the Union Oil Co and Bureau of Mines in pilot plant operation shows that petroleum production from this source is entirely practicable and that vast amounts of oil may be produced in the foreseeable future

The Green River formation in Colorado alone has been described as an area of 1,000 square miles with an underlay of oil shale 500 feet thick averaging a recovery of 15 gallons of oil per ton "

The Malone committee favors a protective policy for the American mineral industry so that American risk capital will go into these businesses.

THE POINT is made: "Mines once closed down require years of time and tremendous investments to reopen With experienced workers and technical staffs widely scattered, machinery liquidated, mines flooded and caved, much of our once available reserves are destroyed and prospecting for new reserves is discouraged

"Failure to realize the situation could mean tragedy to our economy and our material security

"Numerous administrative agencies and departments of the government are involved in the stockpile program, or in efforts to increase the production of critical materials They act independently of each other and none are charged with the complete operation

"Many are not cognizant of the end objectives of the program Their activities are marked by confusion and delay. . ."

There are 77 essential minerals and materials without which it is impossible to conduct war or to maintain our industries. In case of war, it would probably be impossible to bring these minerals and materials to this country across the oceans

The Malone committee sought to discover whether these minerals and materials are available on the American continents.

FOR INSTANCE, titanium is one of the most important minerals It is essential for bomber planes flying great distances at supersonic speeds. This country needs 150,000 tons of titanium annually and we produce 2,000 tons

The committee reports "In 1953 the secretary of defense recommended the production of 35 000 tons of titanium annually by 1956 The Office of Defense Mobilization reduced the figure to 25,000 tons and up to September 21 of that year the General Services Administration had let contracts for 13-200 tons and the actual annual production was little over 2,000 annual tons "

If titanium has to be brought across oceans, it is possible that we shall not have any in war time At present, Australia and India are sources of the raw material

Obviously this material could not be brought across the Pacific Ocean in the event of a Far Eastern war India may prevent us from shipping this war-essential at the behest of the Soviet Universal State

According to Sen George Malone's committee there is more ilmenite from which titanium is made in the United States and Canada than could be used in a century Why are we going to India for this material?

Red Flag

By Victor Riesel

LONDON

That graceful TWA air liner speeds you across the Atlantic so swiftly, you never realize you've changed worlds until you wander out to Trafalgar Square and see, for the first time in decades, revolutionary red flags held aloft at an anti-American demonstration by the Communist party of Britain

RIESEL

There, at the base of Nelson's statue, between the rear ends of two British Lines, one John Campbell, editor of the London Daily Worker, denounced the US and the anti-Communists in Guatemala Thousands cheered and the red flags fluttered in the hands of the Communist standard bearers, standing at rigid attention like salad day Nazi Storm troopers I've seen.

So I wandered down Whitehall and got into the Upper Reporters' gallery at the House of Commons some days later. And between 2 35 p m., when the House convened, and 2 55 I heard the Labor deputies howl at and sneer at, and laugh at the US. at least 11 separate times by my notes.

THE LABORITES present, during what they call "Questions for Oral Answers" by the harassed representative of the Foreign Office demanded more grandiose treatment of the Communist Chinese Trade Delegation here now And the Labor party MPs reflected and repeated what the Communist speakers had hurled at our country a few days earlier at Trafalgar Square

The new Guatemalan government was "lamentable," sneered the Labor Benches. And they laughed The anti-Communist revolution there was a "little murder," they said

They shouted "Hear, hear!" The US was just no good That was it And I counted some 60 Laborite members present, and most of them were utterly amused by charges from their ranks that "American aircraft and American pilots had machine-gunned Guatemalan citizens"

At every turn the US was championed by the Churchill spokesmen It soon becomes evident here that the United States has few friends left in the British Labor party Anti-Americanism reaches as high as it can go inside the party.

Most vocal anti-Americans are in a powerful phalanx of younger left wing socialists — and sooner or later, possibly this September, they may control the party officially.

IF THEY DO, and if the British Labor party then defeats the Churchill government in the next election, we have lost England, as we have lost France.

The British Laborites will denounce such a prediction But there is a very arrogant US-hating MP by name of Mike Foot, who has already told Parliament, "There is a new type of refugee in the world today, the (political) refugee from the US"

He then referred to the handful of Soviteers whom Hollywood will not permit back into the studios and who are working here in the British movie industry and theater above ground and in the pro-Russian apparatus elsewhere

There is the ex-miner, the arrogant Aneurin Bevan, boss of the Laborite left wingers He loathes us passionately He has already written that Britain must break her alliance with us rather than join in an anti-Communist Asiatic pact.

Bevan said, in effect, that the British alliance with us was made to prevent war, not to fight Communism. If we want to fight Communism, we're distorting our pact with England and we can go it alone, says he.

Now, mind you, "Nye" Bevan is given a 50-50 chance here of capturing enormous, if not controlling, power in the British Labor party when its annual conference convenes the last week in September — shorly after the British Labor delegation returns from wooing Mao Tse-tung in Peiping

BUT WHAT OF our "friends" in the British Labor party high command? What of the gentle ex-prime minister Clement Attlee, titular leader of the party?

He has told the House of Commons that, "It was quite clear that Mr. Molotov also worked for the (Geneva) conference to succeed."

In that speech, Attlee praised the notorious killer-envoy from China, Chou En Lai. And, of course, the US. came off badly in the talk

The British people are our friends The Churchill government may differ with us on tactics, but it is our friend If forced to make a choice, as Anthony Eden told Molotov at Geneva, it will publicly state on whose side it will fight

But there are too many leaders of the Labor party who hate the US If they take power, we lose Britain.

Letter to Boyle

By W. S. Stewart

Editor's Note: Last week Hal Boyle, a city feller who thinks poison ivy is jus ta nickname for a girl gossip, wrote a piece claiming that a New York apartment is the coolest and safest place to spend the summer. Today we present a grass roots rebuttal by a nature-loving fellow newspaperman of the Adrian, Mich., Telegram.

ADRIAN, MICH

Dear Hal

The best place to spend the summer is in the country

Let a friend of mine explain why

"We have the finest air conditioning anywhere There's no service charge, installation fee or scraping for payments You don't have to remember to turn it on or off It runs all the time and never adds a cent to the electric bills The soft breeze which ripples gently across the pine-encircled lake dances sweetly through the open door with Mother Nature paying the entire shot.

'Neighbors don't bother us Our 'bullfrog-echoing dale in the wildwood' is completely our own. Not even moon-eyed lovers dare the winding trail to steal a few moments alone.

"The boring neighbors don't drop over any more We have an unwritten understanding about our lot lines—dating from the day his cat slapped a curious paw into the hide of our sleeping dog

'Our days aren't spent looking at four walls There's too much open space in northern Michigan's wate. wonderland — too many beauties of the Lord—to waste the hours getting into each other's way

"We take hikes we sail the rolling waters We troll slowly through the still pools hauling in many tasy samples for the frying pan

"And we swim Oh, how we swim A cool dive deep into the crystal clear freshness of sweet spring water is much more to our dreams than a hasty wash in a tub of lukewarm chlorine-recking H2O

"We sleep the nights of pure physical exhaustion. No neighbors come stumbling home minutes before dawn offering a harmonious rendition of 'Let Me Call—'. The clash of gears, roar of V8 horses and scream of burning rubber don't disturb our reveries

"Famished from the fun of outdoors, we eat unbelievable quantities of picnics, brunches and in-betweens But the wife finds it's not the same old tiring grind Our family meals cooked and the every-man-for-himself rule gets the dishes cleaned without padlocking her to a stove

'Now the nights—those pure delights of peace

"The moon sliding softly from under the tittering pines soon bathes the scene in golden charm like a giant candle Flickering fires around the shore fade away as if ashamed of their own effort in the face of her glory. A bass breaks the stillness with a somersault high above the water. Another ballets its way across the waves in answer. Somewhere a loon makes his presence known The night lives on

"You can have your man-made luxuries Nature is still so far ahead there is no match in comparison.

"The best place to spend the summer is in the country '

That's exactly what the man said—honest, Hal

Editor's Note Well Boyle now what have you got to say in favor of the city?

Boyle's Note: Not a word Mr Stewart's friend has sold me on everything except those "tittering pines" No pine trees really titter They either murmur—or break out into wild, needle-pointed laughter, usually during violent storms.

The nearest thing to a true titter made by an American tree is the sound given off by certain varieties of scrub oak, which in freezing weather often emit a series of cold dry chuckles—and very unnerving they are, too

State Highway Personnel Boss Checks Roster

10 of 21 Named by Rhodes Found in Law Violation, He Reports

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A state examiner who turned up the fact 10 state highway department workers hold political jobs is a political worker himself, the department's personnel manager announced today.

Robert E. Wallace, the employment chief, said he has discovered Leo Figmaka, the state examiner employed by Republican State Auditor James A. Rhodes, is a Republican committeeman from Lucas County.

A spokesman in Rhodes, office said today that Figmaka had been instructed to quit his political post when he was appointed a state examiner.

Rhodes in a radio talk Sunday said Gov. Frank J. Lausche, a Democrat, gave state jobs to political workers in violation of state law. Rhodes is the Republican candidate for governor.

Wallace checked a list of 21 names used by Rhodes and today said 10 of those named now violate the law by holding political jobs. He predicted most will have resigned by the end of the week.

Some of those named by Rhodes wok in the Toledo state highway office. Figmaka, whose salary is $480 a month, was assigned there by Rhodes to examine highway department records. He was appointed an examiner last August and was elected a Republican Committeeman last May, Wallace said he learned after checking the Lucas County board of electiontions.

Wallace said those who will be given the choice of resigning either their highway department jobs or their political jobs include:

George L. Gottfreid, 1234 Rice Ave., Lima, maintenance repair man.

Catcher Carl Sawatski of the Chicago White Sox previously played for the Chicago Cubs. He was acquired on waivers last December.

Finds Snake in Radio

SHELBY, N. C. (AP)—J. B. Jolley looked up yesterday to see a snake's head protruding from the back of his radio.

He took the set out back where he shook and tapped on the cabinet. The stubborn snake refused to budge.

All else failing, Jolley hooked up an extension cord and turned on the set. The heat from the tubes proved too much and the foot-long snake slithered out.

Crawford 4-H Style Review Set This Week

BUCYRUS — Sulphur Springs High School, east of here, will be the scene of the annual all-county girls' 4-H style review, Miss Louise Augenstein, Crawford County home demonstration agent, announced here today.

The all-county review will be held this Saturday night following individual school judging to be conducted by Miss Augenstein and Mrs. H. L. Wenner of Upper Sandusky.

The school judging schedule includes: Thursday, Mount Zion and Tiro; Friday, Lykens, New Washington and Chatfield; Monday, Holmes-Liberty, Whetstone and North Robinson; Tuesday, Sulphur Springs, Leesville and Galion.

All entries will be displayed at the Crawford County fair, opening here Aug. 3 are running through Aug. 7.

Stolen Auto Turns Up At Police Headquarters

WILMINGTON, N. C. (AP)— Policewoman Julia Pearson asked the desk sergeant if it wouldn't be a good idea to tow off the car parked in front of the police station two days. The car's windshield was full of tickets she had placed there.

The desk sergeant looked over his records and found the car had been stolen from Police Chief Paul Wolfe of nearby Carolina Beach. Wolfe had been looking for the car three days.

1,042 Automotive Engineers report on NEW BLUE SUNOCO

1,042 automotive engineers tried the New Blue Sunoco in their own cars ... compared it with other gasolines.

Of those who had formerly used premium-priced gasolines, 95% report New Blue Sunoco equals or excels those premium-priced gasolines for over-all performance. Yet New Blue Sunoco still sells at regular gasoline price.

PERHAPS no gasoline ever faced a tougher jury than the men who design and build America's cars. Following the introduction of New Blue Sunoco we invited these automotive engineers to try this new gasoline in their own cars. Then we asked them for their reactions. Of the original 1,384 who tried New Blue Sunoco, we received answers from 1,042. This is strong evidence of the great interest these men have in improvements in their field.

9 out of 10 say New Blue Sunoco equals or excels "Premiums" for power and pick-up

To us, a very significant group were those who had previously used a premium-priced gasoline. These engineers, many of whom drive high compression cars, were—and had every right to be—super-critical. They compared New Blue Sunoco, selling at regular gas price, with premium-priced brands costing up to 3¢ more per gallon. 93% said New Blue Sunoco equals or excels "premiums" for power and pick-up.

8 out of 10 say New Blue Sunoco equals or excels "Premiums" for Anti-Knock Performance

Of those who compared New Blue Sunoco against premium-priced brands, 80% said it was equal or superior to the "premiums" for anti-knock performance. These engineers, a cross-section of the automotive industry, are specialists on everything from spark plugs to high compression engines.

42% already users of Blue Sunoco

We were pleased, but not surprised, to discover that 42% of the engineers who answered our request for their opinions reported they were already users of Blue Sunoco. This was a far greater number than reported using all other premium gasolines combined.

High-Test at regular gas price

There's a good reason for the enviable record of New Blue Sunoco. Sun Oil Company produces only one grade of gasoline. This policy saves on storage tanks, trucks, pumps. These savings are invested in research and new improved refining processes which enable us to produce a gasoline with high anti-knock power especially designed for high compression engines and sell it at regular gas price.

That's why, if you have been instructed by your car dealer or owner's manual to use a "premium" (or "High-Test") gasoline, you can get it in New Blue Sunoco at regular gas price.

Follow the lead of automotive engineers, the men who know most about cars—use New Blue Sunoco in your car.

COMPARISON CHART

This is what automotive engineers reported after comparing New Hi-Test Blue Sunoco with premium-priced gasolines in their own cars.

FOR OVER-ALL PERFORMANCE: 95% say NEW HI-TEST BLUE SUNOCO EQUALS OR EXCELS "PREMIUMS"	FOR ANTI-KNOCK PERFORMANCE: 80% say NEW HI-TEST BLUE SUNOCO EQUALS OR EXCELS "PREMIUMS"
FOR POWER AND PICK-UP: 93% say NEW HI-TEST BLUE SUNOCO EQUALS OR EXCELS "PREMIUMS"	FOR MILES PER GALLON: 84% say NEW HI-TEST BLUE SUNOCO EQUALS OR EXCELS "PREMIUMS"

Results of Automotive Engineers' reports compiled by nationally-known firm of certified public accountants.

Irish Policeman Turns Out Religious Melodies

DUBLIN — (UP) — Dick Farrelly, a policeman-composer, hopes to cash in on the current semi-religious boom in popular songs.

Richer by over $30,000, thanks to such Irish ditties as "Innisfree" "There's Only One Killarney" and "Cottage by the Lea," Farrelly is watching the mail from America for a demonstration disk of his latest, "O, Padre."

Recently recorded in New York, this song, he says, "is in the semi-religious vein." He hopes to make another $10,000 out of it, just as he did with "Innisfree," theme song of John Ford's film, "The Quiet Man."

The 36-year-old bachelor has no plans, despite his success as a songwriter, to get married or to abandon his job as a cop.

He clocks in at 9 p.m. in his clerical job at Dublin Castle police precinct, empties his pockets of all available scrap paper, and jots down his ideas. Carrying pieces of paper is a "must" for the singing cop since the day he thought up "Innisfree" on a bus trip between his native County Meath and Dublin.

Get Half of Viet Nam

Reds Win Decisive Indochina Victory

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Communists have won a clear-cut victory in Indochina. It can't be minimized. The French let them have half of Viet Nam. Now the United States faces one of the most important decisions in its history.

It is this: Will this country, to keep the rest of Indochina and Southeast Asia out of Communist hands, be willing to fight if the Communists move any further? Or will the United States just sit back and express pious hopes that the Southeast Asians won't submit to communism?

There is talk — until it becomes a reality it will remain talk — that this country will try to form a Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO) to defend the rest of Indochina and Southeast Asia against any further Communist advance.

It remains to be seen (A) whether the United States can get allies to go along with this plan and (B) whether Congress, where there has been much divided opinion, will take action which could lead to military involvement someday.

THERE WAS SO MUCH national unhappiness over the Korean War and the cost in American lives, and so much national relief and joy when the Communists agreed to a truce there, that there has been no national enthusiasm for getting involved all over again in Asian fighting.

The Communists knew of this feeling. Knowing, they may have gambled that this country wouldn't go to the rescue of the French in Indochina if the Reds stepped up the pressure on the French. If they did bet on that, they won.

They will probably sit quietly for a while now. They can afford to. They can sit back and watch what the Western Allies, particularly the United States, are willing to do about agreeing to draw a line in Asia beyond which they won't let the Communists move without massive war.

IF THE WEST FAILS to reach agreement—and any such agreement wouldn't be worth much unless the Southeast Asians were willing to be a party to it—it will be like a go-ahead light for the Communists. If there is agreement, they can still move without open aggression across a frontier.

They can use economic pressure to subvert the Southeast Asians, plus the usual political pressure and subversion. If that fails, they can start open revolt by local Communists as they did in Indochina.

But the United States has reached a point where it is going to have to be willing to fight in Asia or stop talking so tough about what lies in store for the Communists if they move one more inch.

There's been some tough talk in the past year by members of President Eisenhower's administration but when the crisis came, the United States stayed out of Indochina. This fact can hardly be lost upon the millions of Southeast Asians.

NOR CAN THIS FACT: The United States held aloof from the armistice just agreed to at Geneva, in which the French let the Communists take over millions of Indochinese. The United States wouldn't approve, but it didn't do anything to stop it.

Both the Truman administration, for years, and the Eisenhower administration, for the past 18 months, had time to look at the Indochina war and see what was happening: that the French were losing. Both insisted the French would win.

Neither administration made an effort, so far as is publicly known, to form a Southeast Asia alliance to rescue the French if they got into crisis.

When the crisis did come, Secretary of State Dulles rushed to Europe to get "united action." The British balked, at least then. The United States stood back. The French, left alone, sought an armistice.

Ashley Girl Takes Part In Fellowship Program

ASHLEY—Miss Betty M. Thurston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Thurston of near Ashley, is representing Ohio this year in a four-week summer fellowship program sponsored by the Danforth Foundation.

Miss Thurston, who was selected because of her record at Ohio State University, is one of 48 girls from all over the nation, to be named for the honor.

She left Columbus Sunday by bus and will meet the rest of the group in Chicago. They expect to return home Aug. 16.

The first two weeks will be spent in St. Louis, Mo., and will include tours, a visit at the Ralston-Purne Research Farm and a stay at the Washington University campus. The group will then travel on to Camp Miniwanca, near Shelby, Mich., on Lake Michigan for a two-week leadership training course.

Woman Again Gets $50 From Unknown Writer

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP) — Mrs. Trumon Wood, 53, has received a second note containing $50 and she doesn't know what it's all about.

She said she got the first $50 a year ago with an anonymous note saying the writer had taken some change from her purse "when we were very young."

The latest note she said states that the writer wants to repay the money — about $200.

"No one owes me that much," she said. "I wish they'd stop it."

Billy Joe Patton shot a 311 to finish 28 strokes behind Ben Hogan in the 1953 National Open tournament. Frank Souchak led the amateurs with 296.

WHO is to blame?

Someone is hurt or their property is damaged through an accident in some way connected with your property or your business operations. Who pays? That may be up to the courts. You may not agree with them that it was your fault. But it is certainly your responsibility if you do not have proper liability insurance to take care of any court judgment. Let's talk it over.

Curfew Law Preserves Tribe Grip on League Lead

Red Sox, Indians Struggle To 16-Inning 5-5 Deadlock

BOSTON (AP)—Cleveland's Indians held the American League's first place today by the slim margin of four percentage points after a 5-5 deadlock with the Boston Red Sox that ran 16 innings and ended at 12:57 EDT this morning.

The marathon ran 4 hours, 26 minutes before the league curfew law was enforced.

According to the rule, no inning of any baseball game can begin after 12:50, and play must positively be stopped by 1 o'clock.

The contest, recorded as a tie which must be replayed in its entirety, left the Indians with a percentage of .625. The New York Yankees, who beat Chicago, 4-1, last night, have .681.

The Tribe's shaky grip on first place would have been broken but for a ninth-inning home run with two out by Bob Avila. The homer, which came with a man on base, was his second of the game.

That produced a tie which rookie Don Mossi preserved through seven scoreless innings while yielding only three hits.

Red Sox hurler Ellis Kinder also came into the game in the 10th inning, and, after he was removed for a pinch runner in the 14th, Sid Hudson pitched the remaining two.

The Indians got all their runs on homers by Avila, Al Rosen and Larry Doby.

Mike Garcia, who pitched the first eight innings, yielded six hits, which produced all the runs made by the Red Sox.

Avila drove the Indians to a 1-0 lead with a home run in the first inning.

In the bottom half of the frame, doubles by Jim Piersall and Ted Williams tied the score.

Rosen broke the tie in the third with a 400-foot wallop into center field bleachers, his 16th homer of the season.

Then Ted Lepcio homered for two Red Sox runs in the fourth, after Harry Agganis had walked. It was Lepcio's eighth of the season.

Willard Nixon, who pitched nine innings for Boston, served a homer to Doby in the fifth that made it 3-3. Doby also has 16 home runs for the season.

Two unearned Boston runs, aided by one of Rosen's three errors, came in the eighth. Nixon singled and made second on a wild throw by Rosen of Piersall's roller. Then, after Ted Williams was intentionally passed, Nixon came in on Sammy White's sacrifice fly to center, and Piersall scored when Jackie Jensen singled.

Avila's second homer, after Al Smith had walked, gave him a season total of eight.

Ray Narleski pitched for the Indians in the ninth and gave up two hits.

Eleven hits were scored by both clubs, but the Indians had four errors to none for Boston.

The Red Sox, who stand in fifth place, 23 games behind the leader, have lost 11 of 13 games to Cleveland this year.

Art Houtteman hurls for Cleveland today, in the second of a three - game series. Houtteman, who has a 9-5 record, faces Ron Brewer, who has 6-5.

SHORT SPORTS

By John Short

Marion's baseball fans, usually absorbed in the actions of the Cleveland Indians, have been paying more and more attention to the Cincinnati Redelgs since last week's All-Star game.

SHORT

Watched particularly close is 26-year-old Gus Bell, Cincinnati's centerfield star. Cincinnati fans are still amazed with the ease in which the Redlegs obtained one of the National League's top hitters.

Two years ago when Branch Rickey of the Pittsburgh Pirates gave up on Bell as a temperamental youngster, incapable of adjusting himself to the majors, the Reds landed the youthful slugger in exchange for Joe Rossi, Gail Henley and Cal Abrams, the first two have since departed for the minors and Abrams has been of little help to the Pirates.

IN HIS FIRST year with the Cincinnati club, Bell hit an even .300, belted 30 home runs, 5 triples and 37 doubles to drive in 105 runs. Eleven of his homers last season were against the pennant-winning Brooklyn Dodgers. His 105 RBI's were the most ever notched by a Redleg outfielder and the first time one had passed the 100 mark.

During the 1951 season at Pittsburgh, Bell was sent to Hollywood in the Pacific Coast League in an attempt to cure what Rickey had termed "lackadaisical play." In 17 games at the farm club, Bell slugged his way back into the majors but was soon sent to Cincinnati.

GABE PAUL, vice president of the Cincinnati club, learned much of Bell's trouble had stemmed from his efforts to find suitable housing facilities for his family. A home was found in Cincinnati and Bell's difficulties quickly ended.

National League fans responded during his first year with his new club and named him the starting centerfielder for the National League All-Stars last year. His play placed him second only to teammate Ted Kluszewski in the All-Star voting.

Yankees' Ford Tops Stengel's Choice as Best

NEW YORK (AP) — Casey Stengel is as crazy as a fox . . . and twice as sly.

Talking to newspapermen before last night's game with Chicago, the New York Yankee manager spied Whitey Ford, his ace southpaw.

"You want to know who is the best left-hander in the league?" he asked. "That feller (Billy) Pierce with the White Sox. He's better than my feller. Sure I picked my feller to pitch the All-Star Game. But that was only because the other feller had just recovered from a sore arm. But the other feller is better."

Ford undoubtedly heard every word. A few moments later he arose and began throwing warmup pitches. About 2½ hours later, he walked off the field with a neat eight-hitter, after pitching the Yankees to a 4-1 victory over Chicago that kept the Yankees hot on the heels of the Cleveland Indians.

Reached in the clubhouse later, Ford declined an invitation to take issue with Stengel but admitted he was determined to show his manager that he was a pretty good pitcher too.

The 24-year-old ex-serviceman turned in one of his best efforts of the year last night. He struck out five and walked only two as he posted his ninth victory against only one loss against the White Sox since he entered the league in 1950.

It was his fourth straight strong performance after a poor spring. His record, which once was 2-4, is now 9-6.

"I was all mixed up early this year," he explained. "My control was off, my curve ball wasn't doing a thing and I seemed to be going from bad to worse. I finally lost all confidence in myself and if it wasn't for Jim Turner (Yankee coach) I might be sitting in the bullpen now or pitching for Kansas City. He straightened me out."

Ford went on to explain that Turner discovered he was doing several things wrong. First, he was overstriding. Second, he was looking down on the ground after each pitch, instead of keeping his eye on the batter. Third, he was not following through his curve ball.

British Boxing Star, Ward in Video Feature

CHICAGO (AP)—Yolande Pompey, considered by many experts as probably the best all-around fighter in the British Empire, makes his first United Staes appearance tonight against busy Moses Ward of Detroit.

Pompey, a 25-year-old West Indian from Trinidad, is a 5-2 favorite to beat his free swinging opponent in the battle to be televised nationally at 9 p.m. EST.

Pompey owns both the Empire middleweight and light heavyweight championships, although he has fought only 30 professional fights—losing only one and scoring 20 knockouts.

He and Ward have agreed to make 165 pounds for the Chicago Stadium fight. If Pompey wins he will be booked for a second TV show within 30 days from New York.

The Trinidad hopeful is ranked fifth among the light heavyweight challengers but is expeced to concentrate on the middleweight bracket in this country, if successful against Ward.

Green Camp Club Downs Marion 4-3

Marion's Indians were downed 4-3 by Green Camp there last night in a Marion County Teen League contest.

The winners picked up an early lead which the locals were unable to overcome with a run in the fourth and two in the fifth. Green Camp scored once in the second, twice in the third and netted what proved to be the winning run in the fourth.

Louis Finch went the distance for Green Camp to gain the win, allowing four hits. He struck out nine while walking one. Loser was Phil Carroll, who surrendered five hits while fanning four and walking one.

Finch with two singles, Gene Schultz with a single and triple and Mervin Stover with a single led the Green Camp offense. Harold Jones had a triple and single, Carroll a single and Middleton a single for Marion.

Giants Hike Lead

Yankees Sink White Sox 4-1, Trail by 4 Percentage Points

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sports Writer

What does a feller have to do to get into first place in this league?

Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees is running the hottest ball club in the American League. Only 3½ games off the pace on July 1, the Yankees have won 17 out of 19 games since then.

And they still aren't up on top.

Last night they came within one putout of reaching their objective. They fought off third-place Chicago handily, winning 4-1. The huge scoreboard in Yankee Stadium showed Boston leading Cleveland 5-3 after eight innings.

But in the ninth at Boston Al Smith coaxed Willard Nixon for a walk with two out and Bobby Avila drilled his second home run of the contest to tie the score. That's the way it stayed through seven more innings. It would up a 5-5 tie after 16 innings with the league curfew calling a halt.

You can't start an inning after 12:50 a.m., local time, and it was 12:57 a.m. by the time the last out was made in the 16th. It will have to be replayed from the start sometime later.

So, by four percentage points, the Indians stayed in first place.

The issue may be settled temporarily this weekend when Cleveland invades New York for three games starting Friday night.

While the American League race was tightening, the National League became more lopsided with the New York Giants stretching their advantage over Brooklyn to seven games, their longest lead of the year.

The Giants won a 13-inning struggle in Cincinnati 2-1 and Brooklyn lost in 10 innings in Chicago 3-2. St. Louis defeated Philadelphia 4-2 in the only other National League action. Milwaukee and Pittsburgh were not scheduled.

Other results in the American League included a 9-1 triumph by Washington over Baltimore and two more losses by the Philadelphia Athletics, their 9th and 10th in a row, this time to Detroit 12-0 and 4-3.

The Giants and Dodgers' games both were decided on errors. In Cincinnati, the New Yorkers pushed across the winning run in the 13th on a single by Bobby Hofman followed by two misplays and a sacrifice fly by White Lockman.

Gene Baker scored the winning run for Chicago against Brooklyn by scampering home from second base when pitcher Jim Hughes dropped an easy toss at first base that should have been the third out.

Johnny Antonelli stayed all the way for the Giants in winning his 14th game against two losses. The only run against him was a homer by Ted Kluszewski.

Harvey Haddix of the Cards joined him as a 14-game winner after beating the Phils but Haddix needed ninth-inning help from Gerry Staley. Four hits climaxed by a triple by Ray Jablonski produced all of the St. Louis runs in the first inning.

The Yankees pinned the fifth loss on Bob Keegan although they were outhit 8-7. Fine fielding which included three double plays helped Whitey Ford to his ninth success.

Detroit scored nine runs in the first inning of the first game at Philadelphia in a splurge which included a double and a grand slam home run by Harvey Kuenn. In the nightcap the Tigers rallied for three runs in the eighth, two of them on a home run by Bill Tuttle.

Roy Sievers and Eddie Yost were the hitting standouts in Washington's triumph over Baltimore. Yost tripled with the bases loaded and Sievers hit his 15th home run.

Wilhelm, Osgood Fall

Vance and Hinton Notch Victories in Little League

Vance and Hinton were Little League winners in action last night at Robert Scott Field. Vance downed Wilhelm 10-5 while Hinton defeated Osgood 6-3.

Stan Larkin, who relieved starter Phil Reid in the third, received credit for the Vance win, his third against the same number of defeats.

Reid and Larkin held the losers to five hits while fanning three and walking four. The losers rallied for three runs in the third but were held to one in each of the next two frames as Vance clinched the win with five runs on five hits in the fifth.

Losing hurler was Doug Bailey, whose record slumped to 5-3. He was tagged for 11 hits as the winners got to him for three runs in the second, five in the fifth and two in the sixth. Bailey fanned eight while walking two.

Larry Saunders paced the Vance hitting attack with three hits including a double. Dave Rouse and Ken Coffae both banged out a pair of hits while the remaining safeties were collected by Dave Howison, Reid, Larkin, and Pete Wolfinger, whose hit was a two-bagger. Donald Long, Larry Prude, Vance Creviston, Bobo Wilson and Jack Waddell got the Wilhelm hits.

Two three-run innings, the third and fifth, enabled Hinton to dispose of Osgood in the nightcap.

John Holmes hurled Hinton to the victory, his fourth against two setbacks. Loser was Stu Flesher, who went the route to absorb his sixth loss against a single win.

Both hurlers gave up five hits, with Holmes fanning eight and walking three. Flesher also struck out eight while walking four.

The losers netted their only runs in the second and third frames.

Hinton scored its first three runs with the aid of an error, walk, and singles by Gary Kirby and Holmes in the third. Holmes drove in two more runs in the fifth as Hinton sealed the win.

Dave Winters drove in Osgood's first run in the second when the losers put together two hits and took advantage of a pair of walks while the second run in the next frame came about on an error after Jerry Bechtle doubled.

Holmes and Joe Ansley for Hinton had two hits with Kirby netting the other safety. Winters banged out two bingles for Osgood with Doug Beaver, Jerry Bechtle and Stan Flesher adding the other hits.

Louisville Gaining In AA Flag Chase

By The Associated Press

Persistency and the strongarmed pitching of Paul Foytack enabled Louisville's Colonels to move up a game on Indianapolis in the American Association race last night.

The second place Colonels, who have been winning regularly only to have their bid blunted by continued Indianapolis victories, pushed to within nine games of the Indians by beating Kansas City, 11-4.

The Indians, meantime, were losing, 7-1, to seventh place Toledo.

Those were the only two games played in the Association. Doubleheaders between Minneapolis and Columbus and between St Paul and Charleston were postponed because of rain.

CELEBRITIES SCHEDULED

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The fourth annual Columbus Celebrities Golf Tournament will be held here Aug. 16, the Columbus Country Club's board of trustees announced. Proceeds from the event help finance college scholarships for winners of the National Caddie Tournament, scheduled here Aug. 17.

Prospect Nine Nips Pleasant Crew 10-5

The Prospect entry in the Marion County Teen League whipped the Waldo-Pleasant combination last night at Pleasant 105.

The winners pounded out nine hits off the offerings of Sherrill and Charles Leffler, Pleasant hurlers. Lauer, Prospect's hurler, gave up five hits. Pleasant's catching was handled by Sherrell Leffler and Keith Augenstein while Bruce Emery and Bob Rodgers caught for the winners.

Rodgers with two hits, including a home run, and Augenstein with two led the winners' attack. Augenstein and Jack Peacock each banged out two hits for the losers

Pony Loop Stars Bow In Tourney

Marion's Pony League All-Stars were eliminated from District 4 tournament play at Defiance last night when a Tri-County All-Star squad from the Delphos area edged the locals 4-3.

The winners built up an early lead and fought off the Marion squad for the win. The tilt was called after five innings of play when a rain storm erupted.

Steve Flesher accounted for all the Marion runs with a pair of homers, one leading off the first over the centerfield fence and the second in the fourth over the leftfield fence with a mate aboard. That blast cut the winners' margin to 4-3 but the locals were unable to start an offense in the next inning.

Finger of the winners matched Flesher's performance by clouting two homers. His first one over the right centerfield fence with one on came in the first and his second, over the leftfield fence, came in the third. No one was on at the time. The winners had upped their lead to 3-1 in the previous frame with a tally on a walk and two hits.

Marion was robbed of runs in the third when Flesher's hit between first and second was stabbed by Reed, the enemy second baseman, and turned into the final out. The bases were loaded at the time.

Bob Lister started for the locals, hurling the first three and two-thirds frames before giving way to Jim Harris. The hurlers were tagged for seven hits while walking two. Stemen was the starter for the winners and he was relieved by Finger in the fifth. They gave up only five hits while walking four.

Finger, who in a previous tournament game had fanned 18 batters, struck out the side in the fifth to preserve the victory.

Defensive play of the game, resulting in the tilt's only twin-killing, came in the second on a throw from Everett Rice, right fielder, to Bob Claypool, catcher, which cut off a run, and a return throw from Claypool to Joe Welty, first baseman, which caught a runner advancing to second.

Flesher with his two hits paced the Marion hitting attack while Welty, Lister and Ted Anderson got the others.

Mac's, Marion Merchants in Softball Wins

Mac's Trading Post and the Marion Merchants raced to Commercial League softball victories last night at Garfield Park. The finale between Smitty's All-Stars and the Eagles Lodge was rained out.

Mac's scored a pair of runs in the opening frame of the first game to seal a 3-1 verdict early. Carl's pushed one over in the third and the winners added an insurance tally in the top of the seventh. A base on balls and three hits accounted for the two runs in the first inning.

Lindy Walters, Reid and Bud England all banged out two hits for the winners. Frank and Smith picked up the only safeties allowed by England, the winning hurler. Sonny Taylor, Carl's hurler, allowed nine base knocks.

The Merchants notched their first run in the second inning and then exploded for four in the fifth and five in the sixth for a 10-0 win over The Marion Star. The game was called at the end of six because of the 10-run ruling.

Medley went all the way on the mound for the Merchants and gave up only two hits. Danny Day, Star hurler, was nicked for 12 hits.

Western Loop Stars

Hitting—Bobby Avila, Cleveland Indians, hit two home runs, his second one with one on and two out in the ninth saved the Indians from defeat in a 5-5, 16 inning tie at Boston.

Pitching—Johnny Antonelli, New York Giants, won his 14th game in beating Cincinnati 2-1 in 13 innings.

Stanky Handed Fine, Layoff; Issues Apology

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Eddie Stanky, under suspension and a fine for his action in a forefeited game Sunday, has bounced back with a public apology and a promise to reform.

Warren Giles, National League president, handed a five-day suspension and $60 fine to the St. Louis Cardinal manager yesterday after a hearing here.

A free-for-all and stalling in Sunday's game led Umpire Babe Pinelli to give the Philadelphia Phils a 9-0 forfeit victory in the second half of the twin bill.

Stanky told newsmen later he realized he has embarrassed and hurt St. Louis fans, baseball nationally, the Cardinals and his own reputation.

A lot of people say, "Eddie Stanky won't do it," the Redbird pilot said of his promise. "However, I consider this challenge the biggest of my baseball career, I will win."

Giles also punished St. Louis catcher Sal Yvars and Philadelphia first baseman Earl Torgeson. Their boxing in the top of the fifth inning of the game led to the near-riot. Yvars drew a three-day suspension and Torgeson two days. All the suspensions started last night.

Philadelphia Manager Terry Moore, in the middle of the home plate battle, drew no penalty after telling Giles he was trying to restore peace when Stanky tackled him about the neck.

Giles also upheld the forfeit ruling, based on stalling by Stanky and Cardinal players.

Speeding Car Hits Tree Killing 2 in Bay Village

CLEVELAND (AP)—A car travelling at a speed estimated by witnesses at 100 m.p.h. skidded off the road and struck a tree in suburban Bay Village early today, killing two women in the vehicle.

The victims were tentatively identified as Ruth Stone of Lorain and Mrs. Katherine Guptaitis, 35, of Lorain, a super market cashier. It was not immediately determined which one was driving.

Two truck drivers said the car passed them shortly before the accident and appeared to be going about 100 m.p.h.

Man Trying Out New Car Hits, Kills Woman

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A man trying out a new car with the idea of buying it last night struck and killed an 87-year-old woman as she started across a Columbus street.

Police said they would investigate the death of Mrs. Elizabeth Bennett of Columbus. The driver, Wayne Herald Jr., 20, of Columbus, was quoted by police as saying he was considering buying the car. He said he applied the brakes too late to stop on the rain slick street.

CincyErrors Give Giants 2-1 Victory

CINCINNATI (AP) — Johnny Antonelli, New York Giant southpaw, has the old whammy on the Cincinnati Reds.

In the last 40 innings, he has allowed the Reds only two earned runs and his 14 victories this season include a quartet over the Cincinnatians.

The latest example of his mound magic came yesterday when he sweltered through 13 innings of ball in 100-plus weather, pitching the New Yorkers to a 2-1 victory over the Reds.

The Red run came on big Ted Kluszewski's 25th homer of the year, which he slammed into the bleachers in the fifth inning. That almost looked as if it would stand up.

But the Giants, who have not lost two in a row since Brooklyn beat them May 29-30, knotted the game in the eighth. And Antonelli held the Reds.

"It isn't hard to understand why Johnny Antonelli has developed into one of the game's outstanding pitchers," said stablemate Sal Maglie. "He throws the best changeup pitch in the league."

The Giants tied the game after two outs when Don Mueller doubled, Willie Mays singled and pinchhitter Dusty Rhodes drove in Mueller with a single.

The stage was set for the end of the 3 hour, 42 minute endurance contest in the top of the 13th. Bob Hofman led off with a single and went to second when leftfielder Jim Greengrass permitted the ball to roll through his legs.

Birdie Tebbetts, the imaginative manager of the Reds, then pulled Greengrass to third base for a possible play there. Third baseman Chuck Harmon was placed between third and home. Gus Bell and Bob Borkowski roamed the outfield by themselves. But the strategy did not pay off because Rocky Bridges muffed Antonelli's bouncer to the right of the mound. This allowed Joe Amalfitano, who ran for Hofman, to get to third. He scored on Whitey Lockman's fly to center.

Antonelli permitted nine hits and allowed five walks. Cincinnati filled the bases in the seventh inning and put on two runners in the ninth, 10th and 11th. The great lefty came through without damage.

The Reds' starter, righthander Art Fowler, gave up five hits before the fatal eighth. He was lifted in the 10th when the Giants filled the bases on a single and two walks. Reliefer Frank Smith put down that threat but he could not overcome his own team's miscues.

It was a tough one for the Reds to lose. However, they split even on the four-game series, a good accomplishment against the league leaders.

The Reds get no breather. They face the second place Brooklyn Dodgers tonight and tomorrow afternoon.

The 13-inning ball game was the third extra inning affair for the Reds in five days. They beat Philadelphia, 7-6, in 10 innings Thursday night and shutout New York, 1-0, Monday night in 12 innings.

HILLIARDS RAINED OUT

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Rain forced postponement of a scheduled five-bout boxing card at Haft's Acre here and of the Hilliards Raceway harness program last night. The fight card was reset for tonight. Sid Peaks of Louisville and Neil Welch of Toledo meet in the heavyweight main event.

RUBBER TALKS CONTINUE

CLEVELAND (AP) — Negotiations continued here today in the CIO United Rubber Workers strike against Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. The walkout, affecting 23,000 production workers in 10 cities, will be two weeks old tonight. The union is asking 7 cents more on hourly rates which now average $2.06, plus five cents to adjust interplant pay "inequities." The company has offered five cents.

'Mo' Connolly Sidelined With Fractured Leg

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP — Tennis champion Maureen Connolly, seriously injured when thrown against a moving cement truck while riding her horse, rested in a hospital here today.

"Little Mo's" injuries—a broken and severely cut right leg—will prevent her from defending her U.S. singles title at Forest Hills, N.Y., Aug. 28.

Dr. Bruce Kimball, who operated on her leg shortly after the accident yesterday, said the fibula or small bone below the knee was fractured and that some muscles were torn but not severed. She was in surgery more than three hours.

Her leg was put in a cast and Dr. Kimball said she would be hospitalized at least a week. He said, however, that the injury would not permanently cripple her. He ordered her not to touch a tennis racquet for a month, and perhaps longer.

Grandmother-Teacher Wins Diploma

Mrs. Clara Messenger's Long Hours of Study, Persistence Pay Off

It's a long trek from a one-room school to a university campus and a lot of hard work has been crowded into 10 years of being a teacher and pupil, but "It's worth it" in the opinion of Mrs. Clara M. Messenger, who received her bachelor of science degree in education with the 1954 graduating class at Ohio Northern University last month.

"And it isn't every graduate that has her children and grandchildren present on such a grand occasion," she adds.

A LOOKED - FORWARD - TO event by her family, all were on hand to see her march in with 195 other graduates in cap and gown. In the audience were her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Judson and son, Stephen of Buffalo, N. Y.; her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Messenger and children, Roger, Marcia and Mary Jo, of the Patten Pk.; her daughter-in-law and children, Mrs. Paul Messenger, John, David and Susan of near Cardington; and her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Baldinger of the Patten Pk.

The 63-year-old grandmother's eyes twinkled as she described the day. "They were all just as thrilled as I was." There was a family picnic dinner on the campus before the exercises, she added.

MRS. MESSENGER took up her college work after an absence of 30 years from the schoolroom. In that time she had married and reared a family of three children, all of whom hold college degrees. Elizabeth, now Mrs. Judson, has her B. A. Degree from her mother's alma mater, Paul received a degree in mechanical engineering from the same school, and Edwin holds a degree in agricultural engineering from Iowa State University. Paul's death in an automobile accident a year ago last March was the only note of sadness marring the graduation day festivites.

It was while she was working at the Marion Ordnance Plant that Paul, then stationed with the Air Force at Enid, Okla., persuaded her to go to college and get a degree in education.

"It wasn't easy," she recalls. She had only attended a country school and later taught in a county school after passing the "county teachers examination." Getting her entrance credits meant visiting the state department of education to find out what steps should or could be taken.

HER TIME HAD NOT been wasted in the one-room school and when she was 12 years old she took the Patterson examination which, at that time, if one "passed," entitled a pupil from the county school to enter high school. She received the highest credits in the class, plus a year's scholarship to Lebanon University, which she did not use.

Armed with these credentials her next step was a visit to the office of Harold J. Bowers, then supervisor of certification and teacher training in the state department of education. Here she was given a rigid examination—it took one and one-half days—and in less than a week she received a notice that she "now had the equivalent of high school credits and was qualified to enter Ohio Northern University as a freshman."

IN JANUARY, 1944, Mrs. Messenger began her studies at the university and in September of the same year began teaching at the Claridon Centralized School. She remained at Claridon for five years, teaching the seventh and eighth grades. Following that, she joined the Marion public school system, taught three years at the Silver Street building and for the last two years has been on the staff of the George Washington School where she instructs one of the fifth grades.

Maintaining a home in Marion, doing summer work at the university, rearing a family, seeing her sons go into service and her daughter married sounds like a pretty full schedule but Mrs. Messenger found time for some recreation-education, too. She has visited the Pacific coast, Grand Canyon, Quebec, the Canadian Rockies and taken smaller trips during her 10 college years. She lives at 233 Forest St.

Mrs. Messenger's parents were Mr. and Mrs. John Baldinger whose farm was a part of what is now the Marion Engineer Depot. She attended the Linn school east of Marion and as a part of her preparation for teaching, attended the college preparatory department at Ohio Northern University. In her early teaching days she taught at the Garberson one-room school two and one-half miles west of Caledonia, which is still standing, for two years.

"I didn't find it too hard, and I liked it," Mrs. Messenger says in looking back on her 10 years of college work. Looking forward she "likes children and loves the schoolroom."

Takes Cincinnati Post

Miss Helen Elizabeth Ballinger of Monroe, O., formerly of Marseilles, has accepted the position of youth work director at the Bethlehem Methodist Church in Cincinnati where Rev. Cecil Fogle is minister. He is a former Green Camp and Upper Sandusky pastor.

Graduated from Taylor University at Upland, Ind., in June, Miss Ballinger majored in public speaking and dramatics. She is a daughter of Rev. and Mrs. William E. Ballinger of Monroe. Her father was pastor of the Marseilles Methodist Church from 1937 to 1942. She is a relative of Kenton residents and is a cousin of Miss Elaine Ballinger of Marion.

News of Servicemen

Airman 2-C Jack M. Postell, 21, of Marion is currently spending a leave at home before reporting to Ardmore, Okla., on Aug. 7 for his next assignment. He recently returned from two years duty in Japan.

J. M. Postell

The son of Mr. and Mrs. James Postell of 351 Fairview St., he was stationed in Japan near Tokyo. Airman Postell attended Harding High School and was employed in the circulation department of The Marion Star before entering the service in August, 1951. He took his basic training at Sheppard Field, Tex., and later attended radio school at Scott Air Force Base, Ill. He arrived overseas in August, 1952.

Fumes Sicken 4 as Chemical Truck Leaks

EATON, Ohio (AP) — Foul odors that sickened four men and all but put a section of U.S. 40 under quarantine were expected to disappear today when a leaking truckload of chemicals is transferred to another truck and hauled away.

The truck was carrying a coal tar derivative called alpha picoline from Akron to Indianapolis.

An unidentified chemist, driving behind the truck, got a whiff and called the state highway patrol.

Patrolman Roger Flint stopped the truck near here but was sickened by the fumes. He called for help. The driver of the truck, Harry Heaton, 29, of Akron was hospitalized along with two other truckers who had been traveling behind the chemical load.

They were Henry Morton, 33, and William Lowery, 40, both of Akron. They were treated and dismissed from Reed Memorial Hospital across the Indiana line in Richmond. Heaton was kept overnight for observation.

The truck was put under guard near here. Employes at a nearby truckers restaurant walked off the job, complaining of the odor. The restaurant was closed and the area roped off.

Little Coconut Cookies Will Please Children

If you have children who love cookies, here's a recipe to please them.

These are tiny, chewy, coconut-flavored cookies that require every little baking time.

Use:

1 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup butter or margarine
½ cup granulated sugar
½ cup brown sugar
1 egg
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 teaspoon coconut flavoring
1½ cups sugar coated corn flakes

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Blend butter and sugars; add egg and flavorings and beat well. Stir in sifted dry ingredients together with flakes. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto greased baking sheets. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) about 12 minutes. Makes 2 dozen cookies, about 2½ inches in diameter.

Given Up for Dead

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — The widow of Detective Bennie Cravatt, killed while stopping an attemped holdup last week, disclosed today he was given up for dead with a rare ailment 13 years ago.

Mrs. Cravatt said her husband was one of a few victims to survive Hodgkins disease, a lymphatic condition almost always fatal.

Ace Marine Recruiter Heads Overseas After Irking Bender

CLEVELAND (AP)—A Marine major who aroused the ire of Rep. George H. Bender by posing Bender's senatorial campaign opponent with a group of Marine recruits on the steps of the nation's Capitol is getting transferred to the Far East.

Maj. James P. Young Jr., much-decorated Marine recruiting chief in Cleveland, refused to comment on the transfer.

Nor was any comment forthcoming from Sen. Thomas A. Burke, Democratic incumbent and Republican Bender's opponent in the coming November election.

But Bender admitted he was "peeved" that the major had posed Burke with 150 northeastern Ohio Marine recruits in a picture used by the Cleveland Plain Dealer in its July Fourth edition. The Cleveland Congressman said he complained to Young about "giving one political party an advantage over another."

Bender said, however, he had "no knowledge of Maj. Young's transfer" and that "it is not our function to interfere with any branch of the service.

Young, whose transfer was ordered two days after Bender's telephoned complaint, had expected to remain another year in Cleveland where he has enlisted more than 6,000 Marines to set a peacetime recruiting record.

Marine Corps officials called the transfer "routine" and said Young already had spent the maximum two years allowed for his type of duty here.

Someone who saw Burke posing with the major and the recruits on the Capitol steps told Bender who hurried to Washington's Union Station and met the group just before their train left. He had his picture taken with the Marines there, but that picture was not printed in the newspapers here.

Dentists Study Plan For Hospital Clinic

Plans for the setting up of the dental clinic in the new Marion General Hospital were discussed at a meeting of the Marion Dental Clinic Association Monday evening in the office of Dr. A. J. Wagner. A constitution and by-laws were drawn. The clinic is expected to begin operating soon after the opening of the hospital. According to plans the clinic will care for dental needs of the indigent children of the city and county with the local dentists volunteering their services. The clinic also will sponsor dental health education in the schools.

The next meeting of the association will be a dinner at Hotel Harding Aug. 16. At this time representatives of interested charitable organizations will join the members and the operation of the clinic will be explained in detail. Organizations interested in assisting in operating the clinic are asked to contact Dr. Bertram Goodman.

Attending the meeting were Dr. Wagner, Dr. Carl Sheehe, Dr. H. J. Bohrman, Dr. Goodman and Dr. Neil Price.

Jockey Jimmy Stout won nine stakes during the 1953 season at Monmouth Park.

Republic Steel OKs $10 Million Expansion Plan

More Than Half To Go For Improvements at Youngstown, Warren

CLEVELAND (AP)—Republic Steel Corp. directors have approved the spending of nearly 10 million dollars for expansion and improvement of its plants and equipment, with more than five million to go for new equipment in the Warren and Youngstown plants.

In Warren, work is to begin immediately on a 600-foot continuous hot dip galvanizing line which will process cold rolled steel up to 48 inches wide. It is being designed and built by Wean Engineering Co. of Warren. Steel coils, up to 20 tons in weight, with maximum thickness of 16 gage, will be continuously coated with zinc at the rate of about 300 feet a minute.

In Youngstown a hydraulic pipe expander to produce electric weld pipe line for high pressure oil and gas lines will be installed. It will cold expand and test 8⅝-inch to 16-inch line pipe in lengths up to 48 feet.

Other expenditures for the Warren and Youngstown plants will include pickling facilities, roll turning equipment, alterations to an un-coiler and a new gage and indicator for a cold strip mill.

At the Union Drawn Steel Division in Gary, Ind., a new building will house new production equipment for an additional 1,500 tons of carbon and alloy cold-drawn bars, and 600 tons of alloy wire per month.

At the Culver Division plant in Canton, Ohio, a new building will contain facilities for fabricating an additional 5,000 tons per month of sectional plate structures. A Republic statement said this expansion was justified by a boost in super-highway and turnpike construction.

In the Cleveland district new hot rolled strip coiling equipment will be installed.

The Republic announcement said this was the largest "appropriation" made by Republic, the third largest steel producer in the nation, since the industry's production rate began to fall nearly a year ago.

President C. M. White said "Republic has shown that good earnings can be maintained with operations around 70 per cent of capacity."

Income Up

NEW YORK (AP)—The Ferro Corp. today reported net income of $866,065 for the six months ended June 30. The company said this was equal to $1.44 a share. The concern earned $751,333 for the same period last year, equal to $1.25 a share. Ferro has a plant at East Liverpool, Ohio.

New Antarctic Trip Slated by Admiral Byrd

CLEVELAND (AP)—Adm. Richard E. Byrd, now 65, said today he "is planning to return to the antarctic as soon as I can get together an expedition."

He told the Poultry and Egg National Board at a breakfast meeting that further exploration of the South Polar regions is important from both the military and economic standpoint.

"If the Panama Canal were knocked out by an A-bomb, we would have to get our ships from the Atlantic to the Pacific through the Strait of Magellan or between Antarctica and South America via Drake Passage," he said.

"It would be essential, therefore, for this nation to have control of that part of Antarctica that is nearest to Cape Horn and of the islands between the cape and Antarctica."

From the economic standpoint, the retired U. S. Navy officer said, "in the foreseeable future we will be greatly in need of these resources (coal, uranium, oil and other minerals) that lie untouched at the bottom of the world."

Byrd, the first American to explore the South Pole, first flew there Nov. 29, 1929, and made other trips theer in 1933 and 1947.

Carey Council Studies Park Operation Levy

CAREY — The regular meeting of the Carey village Council was held Monday night at the municipal building.

Three resolutions read were: investing of $5,000 out of the electric fund in Series K government bonds; investing of $1,000 out of the cemetery ndowment fund in same type bonds; requesting that a one-mill tax levy for two years be placed on the tax ballot to be used for Carey Memorial Park operations.

Mayor G. C. Wagner read his report on arrests and violations and turned over to the village the amount of $405.20. Council also considered the complaints received from various persons pertaining to the way people park on W. Findlay St. from Christ Lutheran Church to West St., so Village Manager J. R. Castner was instructed to have separate parking spaces painted on the pavement in this location.

Building permits were issued as follows Clescent Stapley, cement block addition; Ira Habiltzel, replacement of front porch; John Nelson, enclosed porch; Lester Keckler, frame house; Howard McKinnon, replacing kitchen and attached garage; Cecil Stoltz, addition to house and garage; Leo Vaughan, frame garage; Harry Crawford, replacement of porch.

4-H Club News

A motion was carried to pay 15 cents per member to go to the 4-H county picnic at Holiday Hill when members of the Green Camp Senior Busy Bees met recently at the home of their advisor, Mrs. Francis Davis.

Suggestions for the fair booth were given and it was reported that members of the club had been busy finishing projects for grading at the home of Patty Pfeiffer July 28. A wedding present was given to Donna Converse and refreshments were served by Mrs. Davis.

REJECT OFFER

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — The AFL Bricklayers Union have rejected a 7-cent hourly pay boost offered by the Stark County Construction Council. The union has lowered its demands to 10 cents. The bricklayers have been on strike since early this month.

6 TENDER-BROWN Chicken
6 cup flour
6 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper
2 teaspoons paprika
Swift's Brookfield Butter
Shortening

Cut drawn chicken into serving pieces. Rinse in cold water, drain well. Put flour, salt, pepper, and paprika in a paper bag. Shake 3 or 4 pieces of chicken in the bag at a time to coat thoroughly. Heat enough butter and shortening in a heavy skillet to make a layer 3/8 inch deep. Place chicken in hot shortening. Brown on both sides. Place chicken, one layer deep, in a shallow baking pan. Brush chicken generously with melted butter. Bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) until tender, about 30 to 40 minutes. Baste with melted butter after 15 minutes of baking. If chicken cannot be served at once, reduce oven heat. Brush chicken with more melted butter.

Referendum on Wheat Set for Friday

Two-Thirds Margin Will Decide Issue

Farmers Growing 15 Acres or More May Cast Ballots on Matter

As part of a nationwide election, Marion County wheat growers will vote Friday on whether wheat marketing quotas will be in effect next year.

County farmers who grow 15 or more acres of wheat will be eligible to vote. Ballots will be cast at five polling places in the county. Local ballots will be counted and sent to Columbus to be included in the nationwide tally.

Marketing Penalties

If the quotas are approved, there will be marketing penalties on excess wheat — that is, wheat produced outside the acreage allotment. If the quotas aren't approved, no marketing penalties will be imposed and the price support for growers who stay within allotments will be 50 per cent of parity. With quotas, supports are expected to be from 75 to 90 per cent of parity, according to Frank Mongomery, county ASG chairman.

Approval by two-thirds of the nation's voters is needed for the 1955 quotas to become effective. The present program was approved by 87 per cent of the voters last year, 390,221 to 57,538.

Eligibility lists for voters will be posted at voting places. To vote, a farmer must plant now or intend to plant in the fall, at least 15 acres of wheat.

Allotments in Effect

Wheat acreage allotments will be in effect regardless of voting on the quotas. Agriculture secretary Ezra Taft Benson declared allotments in effect earlier in the year due to a wheat surplus. Farmers must comply with them to receive price support benefits.

Voting places in Marion and surrounding counties will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Voting places are as follows:

For Marion, Green Camp, Grand Prairie and Pleasant Townships, the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office, 191 S. State St.

For Big Island, Salt Rock and Grand Townships, the Meeker school. Bowling Green and Montgomery growers will vote at the LaRue fire house.

For Claridon, Scott and Tully Township voters, the Caledonia council room; and Waldo, Prospect and Richland Townships, the Waldo Township house.

Area Voting Places

Other Marion area voting places will be:

Morrow County: Canaan, Cardington, Gilead, Lincoln, Washington and Westfield Townships, the ASC office; Congress, Franklin, North Bloomfield, Perry and Troy Townships, the Williamsport township hall; Bennington, Chester, Harmony, Peru and South Bloomfield Townships, the Marengo Township hall.

Delaware County: Oxford, Brown, Delaware and Berlin Townships will vote at the ASC office. Marlboro, Troy, Radnor, Thompson and Scioto Townships, the Radnor Township hall; Liberty, Concord and Orange Townships, the Hyatts School; Porter, Berkshire, Kingston, Genoa, Trenton and Harlem Townships will vote at the Sunbury Town Hall.

Polling places in Crawford County will be located at the Galion City building, Lykens Township hall, Tiro School, and ASC offices.

Maximum Use Of Rain Asked

Much Water Needed In Growing of Corn

CHICAGO—More than 2,666 tons water are needed to make a 100-bushel corn crop, reports the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee, in citing estimates by Corn Belt soils specialists.

"Because of this fact," says the committee, "it is essential that farmers keep their soils in shape to make maximum use of every drop of rain available."

Actually, many Corn Belt farms are only about 50 per cent efficient in the use of water for producing crops, says the committee. Two factors responsible for this are:

1. Too much water is permitted to get away. It runs off because some soils are in such poor shape that the surface seals over and won't allow water to soak in.

2. When the soil's fertility level is low, more water is needed to take the nutrients into the growing plants, because the concentration of nutrients in the soil solution will be low.

"Soils make most efficient use of water," says the committee, "when they are porous, of good tilth and are high in organic matter. When such soils get a well-balanced supply of nitrogen, phosphate and potash fertilizer, growing crops have the full benefit of all the nutrients and moisture they need for high yields.

"Soils can be kept in good condition for maximum water use, by growing legumes and grasses regularly in the rotation, by adding fertilizer and lime, where needed and by returning crop aftermath to the soils. On some soils Midwestern agronomists recommend two years of legume or legume-grass sod in every four to build the supply of active organic matter to keep the soil in good shape," the committee says.

REJOINS BUCYRUS POLICE

BUCYRUS—Police Chief Arthur L. Stuckert announced here today that George W. Ghist, who served on the police force for three years, will rejoin the force next Tuesday. Ghist, a native Bucyrian, resigned from the department last August to join the Ohio Highway Patrol. Since graduating from the patrol's training school, he has been stationed at Urbana. A World War II veteran, Ghist is the brother of Police Capt. Donald Ghist.

Ohio Farm Econogram

Report on Prices and Economic Trends Prepared by Agricultural Extension Service

June chick hatch reported five per cent less than June 1953. For broiler areas five per cent more were hatched. Number of broilers reaching marketable age during next three months will probably be slightly larger than a year ago.

Heavy breed turkey poult hatch for first six months increased eight per cent. Light breeds increased 17 per cent over last year. Record turkey crop indicated if death losses are no larger than in 1953.

—:—

Cattle on feed for market in 11 corn-belt states on July 1 estimated five per cent larger than year earlier. Ohio showed eight per cent increase. Short term feeding at higher level than last year. About four per cent of April-June marketings went into feed lots after April 1—compares with two per cent last year.

—:—

Stockers and feeders shipped from eight leading markets in June cost an average of $17.98 per hundredweight. Compares with $15.38 in June 1953.

—:—

Meat animals furnished over 28 per cent of cash receipts of farmers in U. S. last year. Livestock and livestock products furnished 55 per cent; crops 44.3 per cent; government payments 0.7 per cent.

—:—

Red Meat stocks in cold storage totaled 600 million pounds on June 30. A year earlier they totaled 748 million pounds.

—:—

Hog price spread likely to be narrower between heavy and light weights later this summer as more light hogs come to market and heavier marketings decline. Look for discounts for heavier hogs to reappear later in fall. Total pork supplies per person not expected to be greater than average (although considerably above last year.)

—:—

Wheat support rates for 1955 crop still not settled by congress. If they are set at 90 per cent parity, support would be around $2.24 per bushel. If 82½ per cent, it would be $2.05 per bushel. At 80 per cent, it would be $1.99 per bushel. At 75 per cent, it would be around $1.77 per bushel. If 50 per cent, it would be about $1.25 per bushel. Ohio support prices would run slightly higher.

Corn under support from 1953 crop totaled 469 million bushel on June 15. Compares with 415.5 million bushels of 1952 crop under support a year earlier. Of total this year, 365 million were under farm stored loans; 3.3 million bushels under warehouse stored loans; 101 million bushels under purchase agreements.

—:—

Creamery butter production during week ending July 8 fell two per cent below same week last year for first time in 1954. Storage stocks increased 41 million pounds during June compared to 64 million last June and 47 million pounds the June average. Same storage figures for American Cheese 39, 60 and 38 million pounds.

—:—

Oil seed production this year expected to be large despite reduction in cotton acreage. Total use of all food fats for year ending Sept. 30, likely to be up 10 per cent from year before. Most of increase in exports.

Around the Farm Beat

With Wyandot County's first lamb pool a success, plans are underway for a pool August 2 at the Producer's stockyards in Upper Sandusky.

W. W. Wharton, acting Wyandot County agent, has invited all farmers to attend the pool. A sheep program, sponsored by the Wyandot County Sheep Improvement Association, also will be held.

Wharton said he hopes the quality of lambs marketed at future pools wil be as high as at the county's recent pool. Of the 181 lambs marketed in the recent pool, 57 graded double blue, 75 graded single blue, and 33 graded red. Sixteen were buck lambs.

Maps of Mount Gilead lake and other area fishing spots are available from the Ohio Division of Wildlife. For information on securing a map, write: Ohio Division of Wildlife, 1500 Dublin Road, Columbus 12, Ohio.

The seventh annual Ohio Sheep Day will be held July 30 at the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station at Wooster.

Various phases of sheep raising will be discussed on the program starting at 10 a.m. Topics include pastures, breeding, wool marketing and fleece preparation, and sheep diseases.

The most dangerous farming hours are from 2 p.m. to 6 p.m., according to Ohio State University agricultural experts. June and July are the most dangerous months for accidents, the specialists report.

Cattlemen To Talk About Choice Beef At Hardin Meeting

Choice beef for Ohio customers is the aim of Ohio cattle feeders meeting at the Hardin County Fairground, July 29. It's the feeders' annual summer roundup and barbecue starting at 10:15 a.m.

They will hear seven Ohio cattlemen tell how to raise and sell choice beef at a profit. They'll also hear Jud Cash, Swift and Henry Order Buying Company, discuss feeder cattle prices.

Other speakers are: Earl Lowe, Hardin County feeder; William W. Prince, president of Chicago Union Stockyards; and J. C. Holbert, president of the Iowa Cattle Feeders' Association.

Cattle in State Dislike Eating Fescue Grass

Kentucky 31 Hinders Milk Production, Body Weight, Experts Say

WOOSTER — Ohio cows would just as soon give Kentucky 31 fescue grass back to their southern cousins.

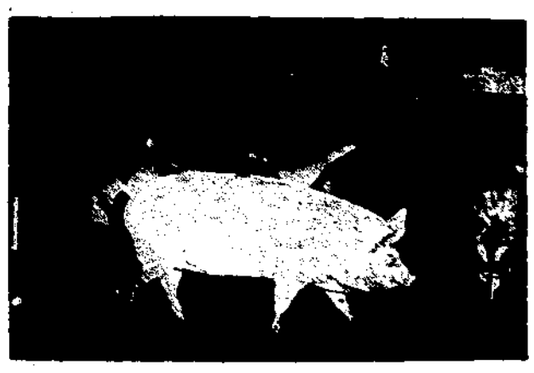
Although recommended for use in some states, Kentucky 31 fescue proved disappointing in tests conducted by R. R. Davis and A. D. Pratt of the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station. Cows grazing the fescue dropped in milk production and body weight, probably due to its low palatability and digestibility.

Agronomists and dairy scientists at the Ohio station had hoped that Kentucky 31 fescue might be useful in the state as an early spring and late fall grass and thereby lower cots of milk production. They tried it out both at Wooster and also at the Hamilton County experiment farm near the Kentucky border. But the response in each test was unfavorable.

At the Hamilton County farm in 1953, dairy cows obtained 50 per cent more total digestible nutrients from grazing Kentucky bluegrass-Ladino pastures than from Kentucky 31 fescue-Ladino. Cows indicated their dislike for the fescue by reaching through fences for other kinds of grass.

Fescue, however, would undoubtedly be an improvement over broomsedge and poverty grass pastures. As a result of these tests, Davis and Pratt say Ohio farmers should stick to the types known to give good animal performance.

It would cost 42 cents to buy from other food sources the nutrients contained in a quart of milk.



WANT MORE MONEY FOR YOUR HOGS?

During July a 25c per hundredweight premium over the market for that day will be paid for all hogs received between 7 A.M. and 9 A.M.—Tuesday through Friday.

Pond on Farm Called Profitable by County Family

Water Used for Fishing, Swimming by Ruths Of Near Marion

One of the most profitable additions to the farm of John E. Ruth of near Marion was a one-half acre pond built under the guidance of the Marion County Soil Conservation District.

Built two years ago, the pond offers Ruth and his family many hours of relaxation, a source of water for livestock, poultry, and toilet facilities, and means of fire protection.

His is one of 20 ponds built in the county under the supervision of the Conservation Department. When the long drought hit the county last year, Ruth's well went dry. He was able to carry some water from the pond, but not enough to relieve the situation.

THIS SPRING, he decided, he would put his water to use. He obtained about 800 feet of plastic pipe, a small pump, and set to work. Now pipes lead from the pond to the house, several barns, and two fields.

He said he saw no danger of his well going dry this summer should another drought hit. He now uses water from the pond for all purposes except drinking, cooking, and washing.

Many hours of relaxation are gained through use of the pond. Ruth estimates he spends at least five or six evenings a week at the pond, either swimming or fishing. When the pond was completed, it was stocked with black bass and bluegills. The fish are now fairly large and should be fully grown by next spring.

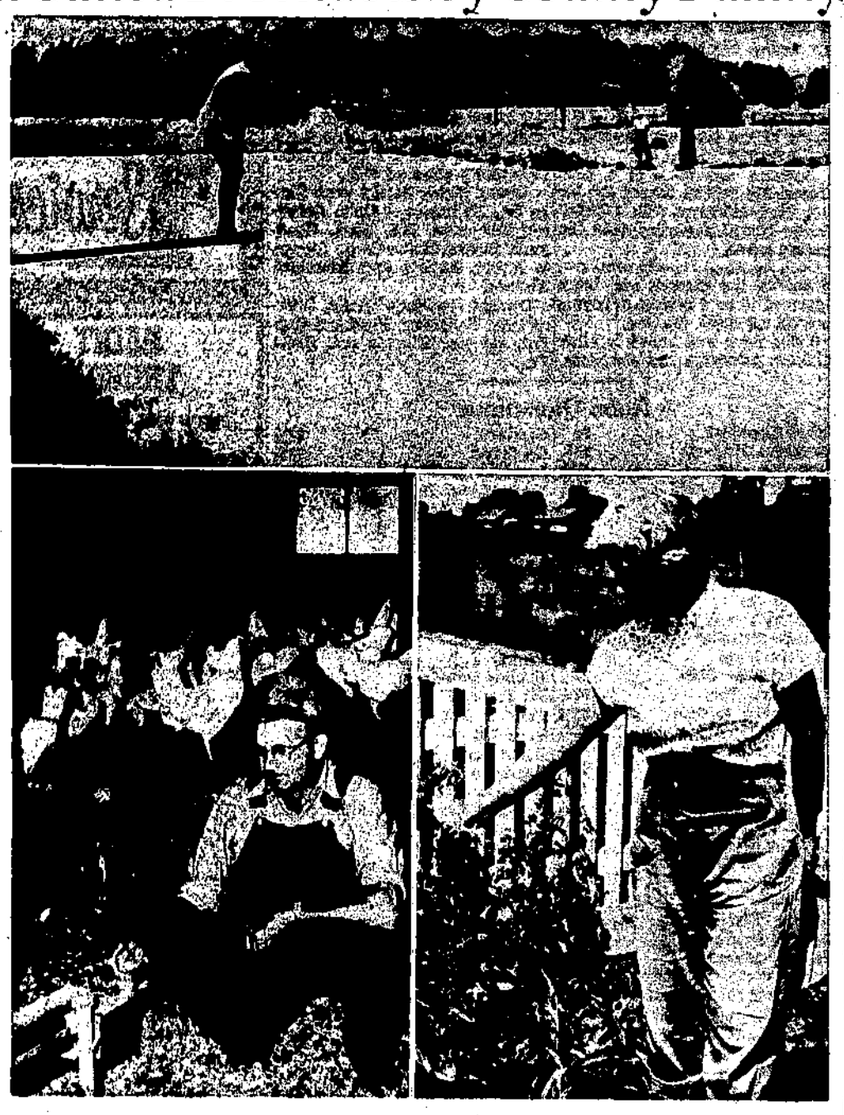
AT ITS DEEPEST point, the pond is 10 feet deep. It is shaped somewhat like an hour glass. Water for use on the farm is taken from the north end, pumped into the basement of the house, and then pumped through to the other faucets where it is used.

Another use to which Ruth puts his pond is ice skating in the winter. He said the pond is almost always an attraction for relatives and neighbors, who get almost as much fun out of it as the owner.

Fire protection is one of the major reasons Ruth installed his pond. It is located across the River Rd. off State Route 529, and is but 150 feet from the house.

He said before the pond was installed, he was at the mercy of any fire which might strike his buildings. Now, however, he is assured that he would have a sufficient water supply in case of a blaze.



A FARM POND has many varied uses, as John E. Ruth of near Marion found out after he installed one two years ago. Now the water is used for swimming, fishing and ice skating as well as watering livestock and crops.

UPPER: Ruth's nephew, Tom O'Meara of near Marion prepares to take a plunge into the water, while Mr. and Mrs. Ruth try to land some fish on the other side of the pond for their dinner table. Black bass and bluegills were used to stock the pond shortly after it was completed.

LOWER LEFT: Ruth checks the water level of the drinking fountain in his hen house. Plastic pipes take water from the pond to the farm buildings.

LOWER RIGHT: Mrs. Ruth admires some of the flowers around her yard which have prospered since a watering system was installed bringing water from the pond to the yard.

RUTH IS ONE of the supervisors in the Conservation district. He represents Richland Township on the board which governs the activities of the district.

Mrs. Ruth is also happy about the pond. She spends as much time at the water as does her husband. In addition, she has been able to start an attractive flower garden around the edge of the yard surrounding the house. With the water pipes so close, she has plenty of water to assure her plants a good start when they are first set.

Automatic watering equipment has been installed in the chicken houses to care for the needs of the flock. A float valve arrangement keeps fresh water moving to the birds as they drink.

DURING THE DROUGHT last year, the water level of the pond dropped about 21 inches. However, it refilled during the winter. Ruth said use of water on the farm takes about one inch of water from the pond every week, but it refills with each good rain.

About five acres of farmland drain into the pond. No tile or other pipe are needed to direct the flow of water, as it is built to collect surplus water naturally.

The farm pond is only one of the recommendations of the Soil Conservation Service which Ruth has put into use on his farm. He is also on a two year crop rotation program. He began it only in 1951, but said he is already beginning to see the results of his efforts.

A former owner of the farm told Ruth the other day there had been some years when corn was ripe on stalks about as tall as Ruth's are at present, with a poor yield.

Ruth's pond will be one of those visited next Wednesday when the Soil Conservation Service sponsors a "Farm Pond Tour" of the county. Co-sponsors in the program are the Marion County Soil Conservation District, and the Extension Office.

Any persons interested in seeing the use to which ponds are put and who is interested in ponds are invited to attend the tour. They will meet at 1 p.m. at the intersection of State Route 739 and County Road 105 (first road west of the Marion city limits).

THE POND TOUR is being offered this year as a substitute for the usual field day held in past years. This will enable those persons interested in ponds to get a better idea of their makeup and use.

Next month a tour of farms on which grass waterways have been constructed will be made. Other tours of different phases of conservation work will be made in future months.

Besides the pond of Ruth's, other ponds to be visited include those belonging to Carl E. Reiter, C. W. Taylor, Perry Seiter, and George Alber. The Marion County Children's Home will also be visited to give interested farmers an opportunity to see how the Conservation Service plans the site for a new pond. A pond has been proposed for construction at the Children's home as part of the regular conservation plan for the farming area at the Home.

Godfrey Press Conference

"Arthur Godfrey and His Friends," just one of the manifold enterprises of the Godfrey empire, went off the air for the summer last Wednesday, an event unparalleled magnitude. Or did it go off the air forever. Rumors were rife, about as rife as rumors ever get.

J. CROSBY

More and more the Godfrey office resembles the Quai d'Orsay. A writer can hardly go to the men's room over there without the action being fraught with significance and landing post haste on the front page. Would the Godfrey family break up? Or would it not? Would Godfrey pull out of Indochina? And what about inflation?

LAST WEDNESDAY'S show was designed at least partly to allay some of the worst fears of the Godfrey fans. The Godfrey shows, I need hardly remind you, seem closer these days to a presidential press conference than to its original purpose, which was simply to sell Frostee.

Like all Presidential press conferences, a reporter must deal in inferences. There were lots of those. He said: "I'm going to miss you all summer long." That hardly sounds like a man who proposes to retire from night-time TV forever. Or he would hardly have said "all summer long." He would have said simply "I'm going to miss you"—and let it go at that. Wouldn't he? Also, he was heard unmistakeably to say: "I'll see you in September" which seems plain enough.

But, on the other hand, his "Goodbye, folks" at the end had the hollow ring of finality. Observers are seriously divided on the significance — and particularly the inflection—of that final "Goodbye, folks."

SO MUCH FOR THE major issues. The minor issues of the Godfrey administration — the drinking habits and love lives of the Godfrey family — were dispensed with rather thoroughly on the morning press conference which was carried on CBS-TV and radio. Two or three members of the family were hitting the bottle too hard, we learned, and would get fired if they kept it up. No names, though.

However, no females were in trouble with the administration for their love affairs or for their drinking. Well, that clears up a couple of moot points. Contrary to all the rumors which have agitated some of the other TV columnists, love is persmissible in the Godfrey family. And there aren't, apparently, any females hitting the bottle over there.

Frankly, I was pretty surprised to hear that anyone was belting the bottle on that show. I thought the only tipple in the Godfrey menage was Lipton's Tea.

GODFREY SEEMED tired and heavy-hearted on his last show, and for good reason. He has been in pain and he has had a pretty bad press this last year. He's not entirely blameless for the bad press. Discussing the drinking habits of his associates on a national network is not calculated to endear him to just everyone. Still, the pain in his hip can be blamed at least partly for the Godfrey indiscretions. I just wish he'd cut it out.

There was a sort of review of all the year's best jokes—or, at least, those jokes which had produced the most solid yaks—on the show, and the measure of Godfrey's discontent can be pretty well weighed by the fact that many of them fell absolutely flat. Godfrey can get an awful lot of mileage out of any joke, good or bad, when he's in the proper spirits. Obviously, he isn't.

The Godfrey spot will be filled by an entirely new show starring Red Skelton, a full hour revue with name guests, nightclub acts and lots of pretty girls. Skelton will sing, tap dance, and do sketches with the guests.

WEDS FORMER SECRETARY. Everett W. Lord, 83, retired dean of the Boston University School of Business Administration, and his former secretary, Mrs. Phyllis Flanders, 40, laugh at the city hall in Boston, Mass., as they filed marriage intentions. The couple later received a waiver of the five-day law and were married in Boston University chapel. Dean Lord, a widower, retired in 1941. Mrs. Flanders is a Yarmouth, Me., divorcee.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (AP)—The stockmarket swung higher today after a hesitant start.

In the early afternoon, prices were up between one and two points at the best with fractional losses dotting the list.

Business was brisk at a pace around 2½ million shares for the day. That compares with 2,580,000 shares traded yesterday with the market lower.

Good earnings reports continued to bolster the market, and there appeared to be a revival of buying interest all down the line.

Steels were well ahead together with the rubbers, radio-televisions, tobaccos, building materials, motion pictures, airlines and many oils and railroads.

Royal Dutch Petroleum, newcomer to the list yesterday at an initial price of 59¼, suffered from profit-taking today that forced the price down around 2 points from yesterday's close of 58¾.

Among higher stocks were Texas Co., Baltimore & Ohio, American Telephone, U.S. Steel, Goodyear, Boeing, Radio Corp., Liggett & Myers, Loew's and American Airlines.

Lower were Mack Trucks, International Harvester, Northeast Capital, General Electric and Santa Fe.

2 Mishaps in County

Two minor accidents in Marion County were reported today by city police and state patrolmen from the Marion post. The accident investigated by the police involved damage of less than $100.

State patrolmen report an accident happened this morning at 12:05 a.m. on State Route 8, just inside the Waldo corporation limits.

Cars driven by Dawson M. Brown, 25, of Carrothers and by Charles T. Burton, 22, of Lorain sideswiped when Burton's southbound car skidded into the auto driven north by Brown.

Burton was arrested and charged with unsafe operation. Unable to post bond for his appearance in Municipal Court, he was detained in the Marion City Jail.

Grain Quotations

CHICAGO (AP) — General rain throughout much of the Midwest overnight brought heavy selling into corn and new crop soybean futures today at the opening on the Board of Trade.

Losses in corn extended to eight cents, the limit permitted in a single session, and in soybeans they ran to 10 cents, also the daily limit. Wheat and oats were quite weak in active dealings.

Wheat started 1¼ to 2⅛ lower, Jly $2.06, corn 3 to 9 cents lower, July $2.62, oats 1 to 2½ lower.

GEORGE WASHINGTON SCHOOL DISTRICT: Lovely three bedroom bungalow with full basement. Two-car garage. Large lot. Priced to sell.

SUBURBAN: 10 miles East. Five room bungalow. Full basement. Large lot. All strictly modern. $8,500.

MARION'S FINEST LOCATION —A beautiful lot with many trees. No expense was sacrificed in creating this lovely home. Large entrance hall with guest closet. Enormous living room with picture windows at either end, stone wood burning fireplace, large dinette with room divider built in buffet. A kitchen we all dream about. Unusually well planned for efficiency—a place for everything—even a place to sit down and have a snack or plan your menus. Yes, it's large enough to accommodate a large breakfast set. Two very large bedrooms — each with two closets which have sliding doors. Ceramic tile bath. Very large utility room done in knotty pine. Two-car attached garage. This home is all newly carpeted. Drapes are custom made—indirect lighting in valances, AND, ALL WOODWORK is MAHOGANY — even your kitchen cupboards. The decorations are superb.
DON'T LOOK AT THIS HOME UNLESS YOU ARE IN A BUYING MOOD FOR YOU'LL FALL IN LOVE WITH IT

One of Every Eight Due For Hospital Treatment

CHICAGO (UP)—One of every eight persons in the United States will be a hospital patient in 1954, the American Hospital Association announced.

This figure was based on records for 1953 when U. S. hospitals cared for 20,183,827 patients, an all-time high. On an average day in 1953, there were 1,341,623 patients and 43,528 new-born infants in hospitals.

The information was gathered by questionnaires sent to all 6,978 registered hospitals in the country.

Non-profit general hospitals which care for the great majority of the acute, short-term cases spent $21.09 every day for each patient, the AHA said.

This compares with an average expenditure of $2.83 per day for each patient in mental hospitals. Mental hospitals accounted for 44 per cent of the nation's total of 1,580,564 hospital beds.

Bucyrus To Seek State Health Board Okay of Reservoir Site

BUCYRUS — City Engineer Kenneth Shafer, a resident of Mansfield, is to confer with state health department officials in Columbus this week a gain the department's approval of a proposed site for a third reservoir for Bucyrus, Mayor Frank P. Sitler announced today.

Mayor Sitler said test borings, made by a Cleveland firm, indicated that the proposed site, which is a city-owned a 38-acre plot near Bucyrus, is suitable for construction of a 150,000,000-gallon city storage reservoir.

Cost of the project is estimated by Mayor Sitler at between $200,000 and $250,000. The mayor said the cost would be paid out of waterworks revenue, providing city council passes legislation authorizing the issuance of the bonds. No increase in water rates is contemplated, according to the mayor.

If the reservoir is constructed, the city would have a total storage capacity of about 70 per cent of year's water supply. The city's two present reservoirs have a combined capacity of about 175,000,000 gallons. Construction of the reservoir would eliminate the necessity of pumping water from the Sandusky River as is being done at present and it would give the city an opportunity to dredge the existing reservoirs periodically without fear of a water shortage while the dredging was under way.

City Waterworks Supt. Roy Riley pointed out today that while the city had six inches less rainfall in 1953 than in 1952, water consumption increased nearly 30,000,000 gallons.

Grant and Lee Back In Service as Privates

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Robert E. Lee and Ulysses S. Grant are back in uniform. This time, though they are privates — and on the same side.

The two men have reported for duty at the Southeastern Signal School at nearby Camp Gordon. Pvt. Lee is from Washington, N.C.; Pvt. Grant from Tullahoma, Tenn.

Strange Animal Believed Panther

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP) —Residents of the hilly, wooded area between Hancock, Md., and Needmore, Pa., have been seeing strange sights and hearing weird noises lately.

Farmers living along Pennsylvania 76, which runs along Cove Ridge, say they have seen what looks to them like a panther.

There are also those who say they have heard the creature scream at night. They are wild screams, resembling the screech of an hysterical woman, it is said.

The animal is described as about seven feet long, with a long flowing tail. Some say it is of a brownish hue; others say gray.

There are even some who claim to have shot at the beast, but no one claims a hit.

Barefoot Pilot Sets Record in Airplane, Auto

NEW YORK (UP)—Betty Skelton, a 28-year-old Florida girl, probably is the nation's only barefoot stunt pilot and speed - car driver.

A pretty brunette who wouldn't weigh 100 pounds with rocks in her handbag, Betty has been flying since she was 11—illegally at first because she was much too young to get a license. She set several flying records, barnstormed the United States and Europe as an acrobatic pilot for seven years, and only recently grounded herself long enough to set a woman's record for sports car driving on a closed - course track.

"I always drive and fly barefoot, said the brown-eyed miss in an interview during a New York visit. "I'm a Florida cracker you know. I flew a plane before I settled down to shoes. Now, it's a habit I can't break. I can sense the accelerator or rudder better."

Miss Skelton's latest record was set in a Dodge Firearrow around a newly opened concrete proving course in Detroit She covered the 4.7 mile track at 143.44 miles an hour, about 12 miles faster than the average record speed over the 500-mile Indianapolis speedway set by the 1954 winner, Bill Vukovich.

It was the first time a woman driver has been timed in a closed course contest by the American Automobile Association.

Miss Skelton's first flying record was set when, at 21, she won the international aerobatic championship for women and retained it for two succeeding years. Also at 21, she roared to an unofficial speed record for engine-powered aircraft in a P-51 Mustang when she hit 425.6 miles an hour.

She said the record never was recognized as official because she had a little trouble on that flight.

A piston came loose, and the engine stopped.

"I was over Tampa Bay at the time," she said. "I had enough speed to climb. The control tower ordered me to bail out. In the split second I had to decide, I figured I could make it to the field. I did — for a dead-stick landing."

At the age of 23, she twice established world altitude records for light craft—climbing once to 25,763 feet over Miami, and the following year, to 29,050 feet.

Betty Skelton still is single, although she is one of the prettiest pilots in the business.

"I've been so busy making speed with planes," she said, "I guess I haven't had time to make speed with men."

BONUS FOR DEER HUNTERS

SALT LAKE CITY (UP) — Deer hunters are likely to get a bonus in Utah this year because the animals are thriving so mightily in some areas that they're eating themselves out of house and home. The situation, which arises periodically in nearly all the important deer states, probably will be met here by special early, late and two-deer hunts in overcrowded areas.

Ancients Found Cabbage Aided Hangover Fights

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—If you must drink, here's some advice involving cabbage.

UCLA's Latin professor emeritus, Dr. Arthur Patch McKinlay, has found that the Greeks and Romans consumed entire cabbages and the seed to relieve pounding heads and fuzzy eyesight.

Aristotle counseled his readers to "dine well on cabbage just before starting out for a big evening," said Dr. McKinlay, while the Roman, Cato, evidently preferred a form of cole slaw.

"If you wish to dink much at a banquet, before dinner dip cabbage in vinegar and eat as much as you wish," Cato counseled. "When you have dined, eat five leaves. The cabbage will make you as fit as if you had had nothing, and you can drink as much as you will."

THE MAST TOPPLED

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — Mrs. J. R. H. Thouron's champion jumper of 1953. The Mast, must have an aversion for the 10th hedge on Delaware Park's course. In both the 1952 and 1953 renewals of the Indian River Steeplechase Handicap, the Wilmington-owned horse was the favorite. On each occasion, The Mast sprawled after clearing the 10th jump He finished third in 1952 and fourth last season.

Roy M. Cohn's Resignation

Roy M. Cohn's resignation as chief counsel of the Senate subcommittee headed by Sen. McCarthy has relieved the other committee members of a decision that would have been hard to make and hard to explain.

All of them, it is reasonable to believe, respect Mr. Cohn for his ability as an investigator, a lawyer and as a prosecutor. But it could have been no secret after the investigation of the quarrel between the Department of the Army and Mr. Cohn over the treatment of Pvt. G. David Schine that Cohn's usefulness as chief counsel had been impaired by the controversy he had helped to precipitate by his own attitudes and activities.

The committee's judgment in that matter is still unknown. But it is as clearly evident now as it was while the country was following the day-by-day testimony that one immediate result was going to be a shakeup of the subcommittee staff. That is the immediate significance of the Cohn resignation. The shakeup has begun with the voluntary withdrawal of the chief counsel.

If Mr. Cohn had waited for committee action and the action had been to ask for his resignation, it could have been made clear that this ability to investigate the Communist conspiracy was not being questioned. When Sen. McCarthy says the resignation was forced on Cohn because he had been, successful as an anti-Communist, he is putting a light on the matter that the former chief counsel, himself, did not put on it in his letter of resignation.

This has been the hardest problem to handle through the controversy over the methods of the McCarthy investigations, which have been in large part the methods of Mr. Cohn.

He has done outstanding work as an instigator and prosecutor of the Communist conspiracy in the United States. But he had begun to try the patience of some members of the McCarthy committee in other matters long before the fight over Pvt. Schine came to a televised showdown. Without their confidence, he would have been unable to continue.

Testimony by an Expert

Rep. Martin Dies of Texas was the first chairman of a congressional committee that specialized in hunting Communists—the original un-American Activities Committee. For his pains, he was given the worst plastering of abuse given to any public figure during the zany era when the Roosevelt administration made Communist coddling a public policy.

Consequently, when Rep. Dies testifies about improving rules for congressional investigations, he is a qualified expert—an old hand at the business, bearing the scars of battle. His recommendation, given in testimony before a Senate subcommittee headed by Sen. Jenner which is considering rules to improve congressional investigations, is this:

"Get a good chairman and a good committee and you will have a good investigation. Outside of that, all you need is a few fundamental rules to see that the witness and the public get a fair break."

Ever so often, there needs to be a reminder, like this one, that rules and regulations are no substitute for good character and good faith. In fact, where there is absence of character and faith, rules and regulations are likely to be misused to make worse the very conditions they are supposed to make better.

Congresemen studying ways and means to improve congressional investigations will hear no wiser testimony on an important subject than Rep. Dies has given.

Basic Reform

A sensational financial reform proposed by Sen. Bridges of N. Hampshire with the backing of Sen. Byrd of Virginia would force Congress to do these things:

1. Collect enough money through taxes to pay expenses.

2. Reduce taxes only after reducing expenditures, because it makes no sense to cut taxes then borrow money to cover deficits.

3. Forget about new spending programs until the federal government shows a budget surplus.

4. Consolidate all appropriation bills into one, but give the chief executive authority to veto single items in the master bill.

5. Hold the existing debt ceiling at 275 billion dollars.

6. Amend the Constitution, if necessary, to stop deficit financing except in wartime and national emergencies.

A proposal like this one puts into perspective the most confusing problem of popular government — how to keep its public officials from yielding to pressure for an ever larger amount of public spending.

This was the most vulnerable spot in American government when it was founded — and continues to be. Franklin D. Roosevelt, who was president during the era when federal spending rose from less than five billion a year to more than 98 billion at the climax of World War II, warned about wrecking the ship of state "on the rocks of a loose fiscal policy."

The basic reform urged by Sen. Bridges and Sen. Byrd will get slight attention. But it could prove to be the most sensible proposal made during this session of Congress.

Myths Exploded

By David Lawrence

McCarthy Has Hurt Neither GOP Nor Country

There are two big myths floating around nowadays—one that the fight which Sen. McCarthy has been waging so aggresively against Communists in government and defense plants is "hurting the Republican party" and the other that it is "harming America abroad."

So far as Europeans are concerned, they know little and care less about the internal workings of the American government, and their only interest in the Wisconsin senator—and now in Sen. Knowland also—is that Congress may cut off public funds hitherto sent abroad by the billions.

This writer, when in Europe for two months recently, found few Europeans talking about McCarthy but did note how intensively the "left wing" and Communist newspapers were trying to keep the issue alive by almost daily distortions of what was happening in the United States.

Americans abroad, of course, talk to each other a good deal about McCarthy, as they do in this country. Also, disgruntled Trumanites fired from their "gravy train" jobs abroad have kept up a furious offensive against McCarthy.

THE MOST PERSISTENT piece of Communist propaganda—swallowed nowadays by not a few Americans on this side of the Atlantic, too—is that McCarthy is "another Hitler." This is perhaps the most palpable effort of all to tie in the Anti-Communist fight with "Fascist."

It will be noted that the Wisconsin senator has never had anybody put in a concentration camp and instead has had the temerity to stand up for two Jews—Roy Cohn and David Schine—at a time when an anti-Semitic campaign originating in Germany has been waged to excoriate the two young men who served on the senator's staff.

The Wisconsin senator could hardly be regarded as a potential presidential candidate by anyone who really knows American political customs. Neither political party has looked with favor on giving the presidential nomination to a Catholic since Al Smith was beaten so badly in 1928.

Those who spread the fiction about "another Hitler", however, try in vain to find a parallel between American investigating committees, which have to be authorized by a vote of either house, and the removal of dissenters by a one-man dictatorship government.

For the last two years the fight against congressional committee inquiries has been spearheaded by the Communists. Joining innocently in the drive are many well-meaning persons in America who seem to be exercised about McCarthy "methods" but appear to spend little or no time worrying about the Communist "methods" of infiltration which have been so successful in the past and which, judging by the current revelations in Australia, are still functioning in free countries.

McCARTHY MAY not be gentle enough as a champion of the anti-Communist issue to suit the pussyfooters, but it is significant that not a single chairman of any congressional committee who has had the courage to tackle that problem in the last 20 years or more has escaped personal abuse and some of them have suffered political defeat with funds poured in against them by "left wing" groups.

As for "hurting the Republican party," probably 90 per cent of those behind the anti-McCarthy movement are from the CIO and the "Americans for Democratic Action" and other radical groups which supported Stevenson in the last election. Many of them have effectively scared a fringe of Republicans in Congress into believing that the anti-Communist issue will drive so-called "independents" into the Democratic party.

The fuzzy thinkers on the anti-Communist issue probably never deserted Stevenson in 1952 and, if some did and now are going to return to the Democratic party, their number will be more than offset by those Democrats who will vote Republican next time in protest against the handling by the Democratic administration of the Harry Dexter Whites and other communistic individuals as revealed since the 1952 election.

The three big issues which constituted the negative tide that rolled in the 1952 campaign against the Truman administration were "Korea, corruption, and Communism."

THE ANTI-COMMUNIST tide swept millions of Democrats into the Republican party and these "independents" are still of that opinion that, where there's smoke, there's fire.

They know that the revelations of recent months have been followed by a determined effort by the "left wing" to minimize the Communist menace and center the attack primarily on the man who helped to alert the country to the dangers of Communist infiltration.

The only way the Republican party can be hurt in the next elections is through any action indicating that it wants to squelch the anti-Communist agitation by congressional committees and revert to the false doctrine that the executive agencies can do it all by themselves—something which no responsible official in the Eisenhower administration has as yet been willing to say.

Politics is fundamentally governed by negative rather than affirmative issues. A ten per cent "stay at home" defection next time could ruin Republican chances of victory.

The only thing that can lick the Republican party this autumn is a lack of enthusiasm by the regular organizations.

The President's job in the next few months—as it was in the autumn of 1952—is to convert a conservative support that's rather passive now into an active, enthusiastic force for his congressional slate.

A Staunch Arm

Marcantonio Tries Political Comeback

By Raymond Moley

Vito Marcantonio, who for seven years represented the 18th New York District in Congress and was for years the heart and soul and mouthpiece for the radical American Labor party, has announced that he will attempt this year to regain the seat he lost in 1950.

He will run as an independent, he says, because the American Labor party harbors a Communist element. For some reason he never complained of this element in his party when he was in Congress.

His candidacy will put this contest squarely in the national spotlight, for he is a formidable demagogue and has a potent influence on the left-wing elements in the district.

The district, which, incidentally is where I live and vote, is composed of an extraordinary mixture of races, nationalities, and economic groups. Roughly, it runs along the east side of Manhattan from the East River at 59th Street to a spot far to the north on the Harlem River. To the west it reaches almost to Park Avenue.

WITHIN THIS great area there live more than 300,000 people. There are great numbers of Puerto Ricans, among whom the Communist infection has made marked progress.

There are many people of Italian extration who used to be the main support of Fiorello La Guardia when he represented that district.

There is all of Yorkville, with a sturdy lot of German origin. There are many Irish, and scatterings of other nationalities.

Running along the East River there is also a section, heavily Republican, in which fine apartments and rather well-to-do people predominate. Over the entire district, the Republican vote is about 25 per cent.

The rest of the votes are divided among the Democrats, the Liberals, and the remains of the American Labor party.

Four years ago, the record of Marcantonio became so obnoxious that a coalition was worked out by which Democrats, Republicans, and Liberals united behind James J. Donovan, a Democrat.

Marcantonio was beaten after a bitter fight marked in spots by violence. Two years later, Marcantonio did not run, and many rumors were in circulation about his failing health.

In 1953 the results of the mayoral election indicated that almost the entire American Labor party had moved into the Democratic party. In fact, it was quite apparent that the Communist line of action that year was to vote Democratic. On the day after the election Marcantonio resigned from the ALP and in effect pronounced it dead.

Donovan is a man of real ability. Physically he resembles the late Jimmy Walker. His acute intelligence is also reminiscent of the former mayor. His industry is decidedly greater, and his political courage is unquestioned.

HIS TROUBLE this year will be the defection of the leftists, including the Liberal party. There is a leftist Democrat running against him in the primary. Organized labor is cold toward Donovan because of his independent voting record. But both the Democratic and Republican organizations have announced their support.

Marcantonio has already started to scream "McCarthyism" at Donovan. This may gain him some support from the Communist element and, curiously, from some allegedly conservative Park Avenue people. But among vast numbers of the people in that district, the name McCarthy is still something to conjure with. Perhaps that is because they have lived near Communists and favor anyone who takes up the cudgel against them.

The 18th will be one district where no one can complain about apathy this fall.

Meet the Urbalities

By TRUMAN TWILL

Experts probably have figured this out too, but in all densely populated areas there is a new sociological pattern that anyone can see from a speeding car with one eye closed.

It is Americans living in the country without being countrymen—living on farms without being farmers—making part of their living from agriculture without being agriculturalists.

When the Census Bureau made its latest roundup in 1950, it armed its agents in advance with a rule that said any rural place of three or more acres was a farm. The agents had to forget that nonsense in a hurry because they encountered hundreds of thousands of rural places with more than three acres of ground that were not farms because the people who lived on them were not farmers.

There is no name for people who live this way. They are not urbanites, because they do not live in the city; they live in the country. They are no ruralites because they do not make the main part of their living in he country, although they live there the main part of their lives.

They are a litle of each—urbalites. They are beyond the reach of water and sewage systems. But they are within range of good roads, telephone systems and electric power systems. Their view windows look out on fields and meadows. They may have and frequently do have cows, horses, pigs, chickens and farm machinery.

But they are not dependent on agriculture. They just like the country.

Most of them have acquired a rural point of view, to some degree. One hour's toil in a weed patch is enough to convince them that farmers don't get any free rides compared with the work-done-value-received formula of other workers. Their education begins with perspiration.

Many town - employed people working in the country during their spare time have country-employed neighbors working in town during their spare time. It makes the same difference, which is no difference at all.

What it adds up to is a way of living that never has been classified. It is a blending of town and country environments that eventually is bound to have important economic, sociological and political effects.

Both as an actuality and as a sign of a trend it foreshadows a time when the Bureau of the Census will have to divide the population three ways instead of two—rural, urban and urbal.

The urbals have mud on their shoes and cinders in their ears. They can breathe smog and fresh air with the same relish. They follow the stock market and the livestock market with equal interest.

When a politician with one speech for the town mice and another for the country mice sees them scrutinizing him from the front row he wishes he had stuck to a career in law. The urbals are politically amphibious.

One of them dropped by our miniscule plot of RFD a few nights ago to talk a spell. He and some help run a farm down the highway a few miles. We kidded him about the shirt he was wearing. It was a shame, we pointed out, that a successful haberdasher couldn't afford a new shirt.

He contended he was a farmer, not a haberdasher. Some day the Bureau of the Census is going to have to straighten this out. He is a farmer-dasher.

Marion County History Brevities

By EDNA S. DUTTON

On May 4, 1877, fire destroyed the hall in which Marion Lodge No. 70, F & AM held its meetings. The council and chapter lost practically everything and the only articles saved, belonging to Marion Lodge, were the charter and record books and papers, the seal, the jewels, the three great lights, the low-twelve bell, 16 volumes of the library and three gavels.

How Amiable Can You Get?

By MARTIN MILLER

A recent news story explained that another film couple had separated on a "most friendly basis" and the parting was "completely amiable." It makes one wonder whether it is advisable to be on too good terms with one's spouse.

The usual grounds for divorce in Hollywood marriages are mental cruelty. From here on, the following courtroom scene is purely imaginary and has nothing whatever to do with any film couple.

Attorney: And now will you please tell the court just how your wife's actions and attitude led to your incipient nervous breakdown.

He: Yes. Well. I would come home after a hard day of making love to Linda Darnell, Ida Lupino, Marilyn Maxwell and Susan Hayward. All I wanted was a good letting alone. But what happened? My wife, who I still consider the most beautiful and desirable woman in the world, insisted on disturbing my comfort by offering me highballs, trying to give me my slippers and rearranging the pillow behind my head.

Attorney: Did you eat at home or at a restaurant?

He: I always ate at home. And that was another thng. My wife never used her imagination and tried to surprise me with a meal. She always asked me what I wanted ahead of time so I always knew what we were having for supper and it was always something I liked. I never had a chance to complain about the food the way other husbands do.

The wife then gave her side of the story:

Attorney: Now, madame, you say this man caused you great anguish and exercised extreme mental cruelty toward you. Please tell the court in your own words just how he did this.

She: For one thing, he always liked my cooking and ate everything I gave him. I never had a chance to complain about standing over a hot stove.

Attorney: Yes, yes. Go on.

She: And then he would never allow me the pleasure of having to remind him of my birthday or our wedding anniversary. He had a great memory for such things and always had a present of some sort ready for me at the right time. It really became just too tiresome. And dancing! He always wanted to go out some place and dance. I was all tired out with cooking and taking care of the children. I used to tell him to take out some starlet from the studio for the publicity, but he would insist on me or nobody.

Attorney: Yes, and now let me ask you how this reacted on your emotions and what effect it had on your life?

She: To tell the truth it was new to me. I never knew married life was like that. It was out of this world. But I didn't want to be out of this world. I wanted to live, Live, LIVE so you hear? I wanted somebody I could yell at once in a while and somebody who would yell at me. That is why I am asking for only $1000,000 a year, the two Cadillacs, the yacht, our ranch up in the valley and all attorney fees and costs.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Home, Sidesciped Home

Freak auto accidents are a daily occurrence all over the land of the free and the home of the irresponsible motorists, but the Weird Mishap Award for 1951 goes to the operator who a few days ago drove his car across a lawn, up a stone flight of 10 steps and into a living room, explaining that he just thought he had "hit a bumpy road." Those who check on auto accidents know that not a day passes without some home, shop or store being struck by an auto.

The home versus the auto crisis has reached an alarming stage. Never has the question, "Has the bungalow or the motorcar the right of way?" been so paramount. Something has gotta be done.

There are times when it seems there are more autos than there are houses, and it is possible that many drivers take the attitude that houses constitute a menace. We were present recently when a man's car crashed into the bedroom of a suburban home. The driver was quite indignant. He was still glaring fiercely at the tenants when we arrived. The man of the house was jammed between a bureau and a couple of beams. His wife was fighting her way out of the plaster. The guy seemed to think the house guilty on all counts, his chief argument being that it didn't have lights front and rear.

He expressed the notion that all homes should have luminous house numbers. "Do you hold that the tenants in this collision between the house and your car are liable for damages because they didn't hold their hands out to indicate that the house was not moving" we asked. "Why not" he snapped. It was clear to us that he favored a law requiring that residences be equipped with mirrors and bumpers. We hear that many autoists who crash into houses make the allegation "It backed into me!"

Bette Ford, a Broadway model and showgirl, appeared as a bull-fighter in a Juarez ring and took on two bulls. . . . The experts said she had beauty, courage and a fine figure but that her work was marked by four close calls. They also reported that the bulls were not much. A move to glamorize bullfighting is obviously under way, with Broadway's hand in it. We suspect the bulls are being picked for docility, made to sign nonaggression pacts and told by some producer, "I can get you into pictures."

President Eisenhower proposes a multubillion-dollar super highway system, saying traffic conditions today are nullifying production gains.

"F. D. Roosevelt Jr., declared that the President and Secretary Dulles failed to grasp the nature of the world problems or realize how to solve them."—News item . . . Okay, Junior, take over!

Cecil B. DeMille seeks seven of America's most beautiful girls for "The Ten Commandments," and says it will be the most expensive movie in history. . . . We are apprehensive about what Cecil plans to do. We had always thought the Ten Commandments had a usefulness and a dramatic quality that did not call for glamor gals and a budgetary problem. Our hat is in the air for the current trend toward spiritual films in Hollywood, but Mr. DeMille, loose in his superdooper way among the Ten Commandments, is a little alarming at this distance and we trust there will be some restraining hands from a few of the country's top spiritual leaders to make certain that he doesn't rewrite them or at any time proceed as if they were part of a Broadway script.

Africa Reports Progress for Disease Battle

LUANDA, Angola (UP) — Victory over human sleeping sickness, the most dreaded form of the long-time scourge of equatorial Africa, appears within grasp in Portugese West Africa.

Although stressing that victory is not total, Dr. Pinto da Fonseca said the 20-odd medical flying squads of his government - run campaign had reduced new cases of sleeping sickness from more than 4,318 in 1949 to 574 this year.

Carried mainly by the tsetse fly, trypanosomiasis (sleeping sickness) weakens men and prevents women from child-bearing. At its worst, it is a killer, depopulating whole villages.

Although not such a problem here, animal sleeping sickness, a more difficult type to control, is still ravaging eastern and central Africa, cheating native and white farmers out of millions of acres of fertile land.

In Kenya, Rhodesia and Uganda, DDT spraying, the cutting down of bushland where the tsetse fly lives, and the breeding of cattle immune to the disease are resulting in some progress. The battle against the animal form of the multi-guised disease, however, will be long, experts said.

Because of difficulties in clearing and spraying dense forests, mobile Portuguese medical units were formed in 1949 to administer wholesale injections of the preventive anti - trypanosomiasis drug pentamidine to natives in endemic areas.

In people, sleeping sickness appears in its later stages as a fever, with a tendency to sleep. If caught early enough, it is realtively easily cured.

The biggest results in the 25-year battle against human sleeping sickness in Portugese West Africa appeared between 1949 and 1951, when new cases were reduced from 4,318 to 989. In that period, 729,925 natives were examined, reducing the index of "circulating vivirus" in endemic regions from 4.77 to .24 per cent, official records showed.

Although human sleeping sickness appears definitely on the wane, the forms affecting cattle are still a great problem. Drugs are still not the final answer, nor is breeding of disease - resistant types, experts said. The thing that will win the battle Africa-wide will be complete domination of the tsetse fly itself which lives in wooded areas along watercourses.

Father James Marquette was buried twice. His first grave was near Ludington, Mich., where he died in 1675. Two years later, Indians removed the remains to St. Ignace, Mich., where they were reinterred at the mission.

BUCKEYE HOPEFUL. Painesville's Barbara Panda carries the hopes of the state of Ohio in the Miss Universe beauty contest at Long Beach, Calif. The statistics gentlemen: she's 19, a brown-eyed brunette and measures 36-24-36.

BEAR TALE

CONCORD, N. Y.—(UP) — An 11-year-old Concord boy dropped his fishing tackle on the brook bank and raced to the nearest policeman to report he "saw a bear" run across the Concord by-pass. He gave a graphic description of the animal. Police said the "bear" turned out to be a wind-blown old window curtain.

Three Mother-Daughter Pairs on School Rolls

SHEPERDSTOWN, W.Va. (UP) —Shepherd College here revealed the enrollment of three mother-daughter student combinations during the past semester.

One pair, Mrs. Marion Meyers and Donna Lee Meyers, was in the sophomore class, majoring in elementary education.

Mrs. Florence Hamilton, mother of Flo Raleigh Hamilton, is a junior studying commercial art while the daughter is doing preparatory work prior to entering the University of Maryland next fall

All six students are residents of this area.

West Virginia School's Students One Big Family

FRANKLIN, W. Va. — (UP) — The total enrollment of 16 pupils at the Dahmer School in Pendleton County carries the family name of Propst.

Elizabeth Boggs, who teaches in the one-room school, said each of her pupils is a grandchild of Hendron Propst and that four of them have had the same surname on both sides of the family for three generations.

The family background is further complicated by the fact that both Hendron Propst's mother and his wife were Propsts before their marriages The Propsts, of German origin, settled in Pendleton County in 1753.

$125,000 Asked In Petition at County Court

A damage suit in the amount of $125,000 resulting from an automobile-pedestrian accident on April 16, 1953 was filed Tuesday in Common Pleas Court by Stanley Krausz of 768 Cheney Ave. Named defendant in the action is John T. Boxwell of near Marion.

Krausz states in his petition that he had left his place of business, the Palace Regreation Center on W. Center St., at 12.30 a m on that day and was crossing Center St., going from south to north near Canby Ct., when an automobile driven by Boxwell approached from the east

Impact of the collision knocked him to the street, Krausz alleges, and caused injuries consisting of fractures of the right leg and left thumb, and abrasions of the face

Hospitalization, surgery and medical treatment for these injuries so far have cost him $1,500, Krausz says. He had operated the bowling alley and recreation center for seven years preceding the accident, and as a result of injuries from the accident he has suffered $6,500 loss of earnings, the plaintiff maintains.

The law firm of Moore and Myers is representing Krausz in this action.

Designs Transferred

Crayon-Colored Dresses New Homemaker's Trick

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Remember what fun you had as a little girl, filling in the pictures in your coloring book?

Now, using the same wax crayons, you can draw designs on your party dresses, to give them extra glamor.

LOCAL SEWING center experts have worked out a unique system of crayon coloring which is bright, permanent and washable. Here's what to do

First choose a sheer fabric such as lawn or organdie, so the color will penetrate Using any standard pattern, cut out and make your party dress Then carefully sketch your design on a piece of wrapping paper, and, getting the placement just right, use carbon paper to trace the outline onto the dress. You may choose any design you like—flowers, fruit or even animals

THEN, using non - tarnishable metallic threat, fashion stitch the outline of the design on the dress, using your sewing machine. Now comes the fun Using ordinary wax crayon, carefully fill in the design with whatever color you like Sandwich the crayoned design between two pieces of brown wrapping paper to absorb excess wax, and press with a warm iron The wax melts out and the color remains The design may be washed but not dry cleaned, so be sure the fabric of the dress is washable.

COLORING BOOK DECOR. This simple white organdie dress is decorated with a design of green leaves, applied with ordinary wax crayons An artificial flower adds touch.

Area Granges Participate in Salem Contest

UPPER SANDUSKY — The district grange talent elimination contest for six counties, Seneca, Hancock, Crawford, Hardin, Delaware and Union was held at Salem School in Wyandot County Monday night.

The meeting was conducted by Wyandot County Pomona Grange Deputy Don Plotts, R. Bruce Tom, state lecturer, and Gustav M. Umbach, state youth director introduced the contestants.

First and second place winners were named in each of four divisions, quartets, vocal solos, readings and youth choruses.

Winners in each division were as follows: vocal solo, Fred Barrett, Hardin County, first; Ritta Shuall, Seneca County, second.

Reading, Miss Loretta Hoover, Seneca County, first, Ruby Crissinger, Crawford County, second.

Youth chorus, Crawford County, first, Delaware County, second.

There were no entries from Wyandot County.

Year's Study Abroad Given Delaware Pupil

DELAWARE — Fay Vogel of Delaware will leave for Europe early next month for a year of graduate study at the University of Geneva, Switzerland, under a Rotary Foundation Fellowship.

Miss Vogel also will serve as an ambassador of good will, acquainting the persons and organizations she meets in Europe with her home town, her home state and her country.

Graduated with high honors from Wellsley College in June, she was selected for the fellowship from among candidates of each of the 30 clubs in Rotary district 232, covering southeastern Ohio.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche has presented Miss Vogel with a letter of greeting to the people of Switzerland. William Schaeffer, president of the Delaware Rotary Club which sponsored Miss Vogel in the competition, and Dr. Phil A. Floyd of Lancaster, governor of Rotary district 232, accompanied Miss Vogel to the governor's office. Besides Governor Lausche's letter, Miss Vogel will take to Europe with her friendship letters from the local club, the city of Delaware and other cities in this Rotary district.

The Delaware Camera Club is providing her with several color slides and black and white photographs which will help her to better acquain the people of Switzerland with her home community. When she returns from Europe she hopes to have a collection of slides and photographs which will help the people of Delaware and surrounding communities with her friends in Switzerland.

Man Pleads Guilty To Assault Charge

A Marion man was given a suspended $100 and costs fine when he pleaded guilty to a charge of assault and battery in Municipal Court Tuesday.

Steve Lanier, 47, of 696 Hocking St. was accused of assulting Dorothy Mathis of 880 Kenton Ave. by her husband, Russ Mathis of the same address. The attack was alledged to have occurred on June 30.

Lanier first pleaded not guilty to the charge after his arrest by city police on July 12. Unable to post a $50 appearance bond he was committed to the Marion County jail pending a hearing and remained there until yesterday.

In court yesterday he changed his plea to guilty. Acting Judge John Bartram suspended the fine and costs because Lanier had already served nine days in jail.

OPENS PRACTICE AT CAREY

CAREY — Dr. E. Eugene Ulrich has completed his internship at Mercy Hospital, Toledo, and has opened his practice in the office he purchased from Dr. R.J. Murphy. Dr. and Mrs. Ulrich and children, Kristine and Karl, will move to the Healey property when it is vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gousha who will be moving to Woodville soon. In the meantime, they are living with Mrs. Ulrich's mother, Mrs. Graham Buckland. The doctor is a son of Mr. and Mr. Emery Ulrich of Carey.

SEEK SLAYER. Hunt has been launched for a man giving the name "Jack O'Shea," who occupied the Indianapolis hotel room in which the body of 18-year-old Dorothy Poore was found stuffed in a dresser drawer. The man gave a non-existent New York address.

Noted Chemist Started Career Through Fluke

ASBURY PARK, N. J.—(UP)—William J. Sparks, honored recently as co-discoverer of synthetic rubber, became a chemist by chance.

The 49-year-old Standard Oil Development Co. chemist once found he had more credits in chemistry at Indiana University than in any other subject. He stuck to it because it seemed the easy thing to do.

His decision bore fruit one hot August afternoon 17 years ago when he and a Standard Oil associate, Robert M. Thomas, mixed up the first batch of butyl (synthetic) rubber.

The discovery resulted in birth of a new industry and, more recently, in bestowing upon Sparks one of the nation's highest scientific awards, the gold medal of the American Institute of Chemists.

The synthetic product, described as better than jungle-bred rubber, now is used extensively in manufacture of auto tires. More than 1,000,000,000 car inner tubes made of butyl attest to its air-holding qualities.

But Sparks had a complaint. All the fuss over his butyl formula cut into his golf time. A member of a Mountainside, N. J. country club, he found less and less time to make his course tour in the mid-80's.

Instead he was busy as chairman of the division of chemistry and chemical technology of the National Research Council and as U. S. delegate to the International Union of Pure and Applied Chemistry in Stockholm. This was in addition to his job as head of the development firm's chemical division.

But his friends say, sadly, that it hasn't hurt his poker any. They describe him as a "straight-faced winner."

Submits Proposal to Lausche

State Senate Candidate In Favor of New Capitol

By REED SMITH

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Reed M. Winegardner is a man with courage in the eyes of Ohio politicians.

The Washington Court House attorney proposes construction of a "new state capitol building that will be in keeping with the needs of our great state."

A few politicians have talked guardedly about such a project. But they have shied from being quoted for fear that voters would cry sacrilege.

They know the sentiment attached to the stone structure completed in the heart of Columbus Nov. 15, 1861, after 22 years in construction.

Winegardner not only proposes replacing the columned statehouse topped with what often is described as a "cheese box"; he put his plan in writing.

Proposals in Writing

The daring Democratic nominee for state senator outlined his proposal in a letter to Gov. Frank J. Lausche. The governor, Democratic nominee for a fifth term, hasn't had time to reply.

A somewhat similar proposal was stillborn in the Legislature more than a decade ago. A legislative committee currently considering how to group scattered state offices under one roof to save thousands of dollars in rentals hasn't even whispered such a thing.

Winegardner also urges moving the state penitentiary from downtown Columbus and the transfer of various state hospitals in Columbus, Dayton, Cincinnati, Toledo and Cleveland to rural locations.

By coincidence, he suggests that most of them could be located in the five counties of the 5th-6th state senatorial district that he seeks to represents in the Legislature. The proposals include:

To Highland County

Removal of the state school for the mentally retarded from W. Broad St. in Columbus to Highland County. The vacated site would be ideal for a badly needed new state office building, he states.

Removal of the Columbus State Hospital for the feeble minded, also located on W. Broad St., to Greene County. The site could be sold for apartment buildings, he adds.

Removal of the more than century - old penitentiary from W. Spring St. to Ross County.

A halt to expansion of Ohio State University's agricultural college and erection of a new state agricultural and mechanical college in Fayette County. Besides agricultural instruction, the new college would stress mechanical training, including aeronautical engineering.

Removal of Longview State Hospital from Cincinnati to Clinton County.

New Experiment Station

Creation of a new Southern Ohio experiment station in Clinton County. The station would specialize in crop research and feature laboratories to find new uses for farm products.

The attorney served as regional director for the Federal Civil Defense Administration in 1951-52 for Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky. As a witness to the 1952 atomic bomb tests in Nevada, Winegardner claims first-hand knowledge of the devastating effects of such blasts that might come from enemy attacks. "We must considers its consequences," he admonishes.

But his major proposal, prompted by reports of surplus cash in the state treasury, is for a new statehouse. Such funds customarily are used for new buildings and other capital improvements.

"Someday, before too long," he wrote, "I hope the great state of Ohio will erect a new state capitol building that will be in keeping with the needs of our state and of its position among the greatest of our states in the greatest nation on this earth."

Winegardner has been a candidate for various state offices since 1934. They include supreme court judge, lieutenant governor, attorney general and state representative.

His Republican opponent in the Nov. 2 election is incumbent state Sen. Thomas Lowell Fess of Yellow Springs, Greene County.
